Prince Rupert Fleet and International Halibut Regulations—Announcement of New Cannery Here—Incorporation of Fishermen's Co-operative

Judging from comments made by A. J. Whitmore of Ottawa and L. W. Patmore K.C. of Victoria, members of the International Fisheries Commission, who visited Prince Rupert this week prior to the annual conference of the International Fisheries Commission with the industry at Seattle, little can be expected in the way of alteration of the fishing regulations which would make it easier for the Canadian fleet to compete with the American. Mr. Whitmore and Mr. Patmore were not unappreciative of the position in which the Prince Rupert fleet, consisting largely of smaller boats unable to operate as far afield as Area No. 3 found themselves, but they pointed out that the Seattle fleet also had strong claims to more favorable consideration and there was little hope of any change of regulations being made so as to enable the Canadians to get a larger share of the fish. The situation was that there was just so much fish to be had and the endeavour of the Commission was to frame regulations as equitable as possible. The visiting commissioners made it clear that no larger aggregate of fish could be permitted to be caught without endangering the fishery from the standpoint of conservation. About the only thing that Mr. Whitmore and Mr. Patmore could see the Canadian fishermen could do to better their position would be, if possible, to equip themselves with larger and more efficient units which would enable them to compete with the American fleet on an equal basis for the amount of fish that was going. The visiting commissioners hinted that it was the intention to take steps to make it even more difficult for Canadian or American vessels to evade the regulations with respect to poaching.

Most interesting announcement of the week to Prince Rupert fishing and waterfront interests was that made yesterday by John A. Clark and Thomas Anderson, on behalf of Nelson Bros. Fisheries Ltd., of the intention to establish on the ocean dock at Prince Rupert a four-line salmon cannery which is to be in operation by next spring. It will prove a valuable acquisition to Prince Rupert's industries, particularly in view of the intention to make it one that will operate from June to February of each year, giving employment, it is estimated, to some one hundred people.

At a convention of the Pacific Coast Fishermen's Union in Vancouver this week, with delegates present representing some twenty-five locals along the coast, a proposal to set up under Canadian charter a federation of all fishermen's unions of British Columbia was considered. A number of resolutions passed by the convention included one urging the Dominion government to come to an agreement with Japan regarding fishing outside the three mile limit off the British Columbia coast.

The Prince Rupert Fishermen's Co-operative Association has been licensed under the Societies Act this week, according to a wired announcement received yesterday by the Prince Rupert Daily News from Victoria.

Union steamer Cardena, Capt. John Boden, arrived in port at 10 o'clock last night from the south and sailed at midnight on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

C.P.R. steamer Princess Adelaide, Capt. Henry Anderson, arrived in port at 7 o'clock last evening from Vancouver and sailed at 10 p.m. on her return south.
