FILM BILL

"I'm From Missouri," a picture Burns, and "Grand Jury Secrets," a fast-moving crime drama, comprise a double bill program being PARIS, Dec. 9. (CP)-Aircraft presented tonight at the Capitol > mule units of the British army are to be motorized in accordance with the advice of Burns' rival, Gene, Lockhart, a machinery manufacturer. Burns goes aboard to save this business and that of his friends. Gladys George, playing the part of his wife, goes along and defies British society to exclude anybody as ambitious and determined as she. Although Burns' devotion to his mules and his scorn for "society foolishness" almost cause a rift, he fixes things up with a couple of clever Yankee tricks and brings both his wife's social campaign and his own mule expedition to a successful conclusion. John Howard heads the cast of "Grand Jury Secrets," playing the part of a newspaper reporter and amateur short wave radio operator who endeavours to use various advantages to get information for an inside story. Others in the cast are Gail Patrick, William Frawley, Harvey Stephens and Jane Darwell.
