That it was one Oriental city where there was no haggling over prices. They, evidently, had the one price system.

"The most beautiful island ever seen," was the expression used to describe Java. While only 25 per cent larger than Vancouver Island it had a population of sixty million people. Every inch of the land seemed to be cultivated and producing. It was terraced right to the tops of the mountains and the irrigation system was wonderful. Rice was grown in the lowlands and among other products of the island were rubber, tapioca, bananas, coffee, tea and spices. Infant mortality was said to be very high and the average life of men was forty years.

The visitor called at a number of islands and mainland ports on the east coast of Africa. Most of them were beautiful and hot, with plenty of snakes and other reptiles and insects. When leaving they thanked God they did not have to live there. Among the Rotary clubs Mr. Lipsett attended were Durban, Johannesburg, Cape Town, Southampton and London.

Presbyterian Tea And Sale

Successful Affair Held Yesterday Afternoon At Home of Mrs. J. R. Mitchell

The home of Mrs. John R. Mitchell, Atlin Avenue, Westview, was the scene yesterday afternoon of a very successful tea and sale of home cooking by the Ladies' Aid of First Presbyterian Church. The rooms were attractively decorated for the occasion with lilacs and many ladies called to lend their patronage to the affair.

Mrs. John R. Mitchell and Mrs. H. M. Foote, president of the Ladies' Aid, received the guests. Mrs. E. J. Smith, Mrs. H. N. Brocklesby and Miss Molly Owens had charge of the team room. Mrs. James L. Lee and Mrs. G. W. Abbott poured and servitors were Mrs. T. W. Brown, Mrs. J. H. Carson, Mrs. William McLeod and Mrs. J. A. Teng. Mrs. W. L. Sandison was cashier.

Mrs. Howard Hibbard, Mrs. H. B. M. Valentin and Mrs. Robert Strachan were in charge of the home cooking table.

C. P. R. steamer Princess Adelaide, Capt. William Hughes, arrived in port at 2:30 this afternoon from the south and will sail at 10 p.m. on her return to Vancouver and waypoints.

With a fair-sized list of passengers, C. N. R. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. Neil McLean, arrived in port on time at 10 o'clock this morning from Vancouver, Powell River and Ocean Falls and will sail at 3 p.m. for Anxox and Stewart whence she is due back here tomorrow evening south-bound.

MINISTER IS COMING

Hon. A. Wells Gray and His Deputy To Pay Visit to Prince Rupert in Near Future

Hon. A. Wells Gray, minister of municipal affairs, and E. H. Bridgeman, deputy minister, are expected in Prince Rupert in the course of the next two weeks on business in connection with the city. It was made today by City Commissioner W. J. Alder following his return from a trip south. It is not disclosed what the exact nature of their business will be. As already announced, Premier T. D. Pattullo also expected here soon to officially open the new hospital.

Speaking of the local $40,000 water main replacement program for which a federal loan of $40,000 has been negotiated, Mr. Alder stated that the next step would be the calling for quotations on the supply of pipe. There will be no delay in this.

Asked as to possibilities of new industrial developments at this time, Mr. Alder declared that nothing of this nature could be hoped for until such time as the international situation had settled down.

The county court case of Lee Carson vs. Darrow Gomez, in which damages are sought arising out of an alleged assault, has been adjourned for evidence on one more witness. The claim is for $500. W. O. Fulton is acting as counsel for the plaintiff and J. C. Harvey for the defendant.

HIGH GRADE START ON LOGS MOVE CONCRETE

Market Not So Good, However, for Lower Varieties, Says J. R. Morgan, Here for First Time in Two Years

Paying his first visit to Prince Rupert in four years, John R. Morgan, well known Queen Charlotte Island logging operator, is here. He arrived yesterday on the Prince Charles from the Islands and will sail tomorrow night on the Prince George for Vancouver.

Mr. Morgan says that market conditions for cedar and higher grade spruce are fairly good just now but for lower grades it is quiet. The result is that not so many men are being employed in the logging camps, his own, for instance, having only about 120 men this year whereas there were over 200 last year. This spring the Morgan camp was moved from Lockeport to Cumshewa Inlet, about a mile from the Allison camp.

Mr. Morgan now tows his own logs to the mainland, the Powell River Co. having tied up the tug St. Faith.

Miss Betty Eastman, who has been on a trip to Vancouver, returned home on the Prince Rupert this morning.

Lieut. Commander F. G. Hart, intelligence officer of the Royal Canadian Navy from Victoria, arrived in the city on the Prince Rupert this morning from the Islands in the south, being here on official duties, and will sail tomorrow evening on his return south.

Another phase of the work of fortifying the entrance to Prince Rupert Harbor has commenced with the starting of the pouring of concrete for the gun emplacements at Barrett Point. For some months excavation had been under way.

Meantime road construction work between the marine station wharf and Frederick Point is under way and, on completion, excavation at Frederick Bay will be commenced. About November 1, it is expected, will see the work finished on both sides of the harbor.

The guns are here in readiness for installation as soon as the sites have been completed. Hon. Ian Mackenzie, minister of national defence, stated on his recent visit to Prince Rupert.

BURNS LAKE

The Handicraft Club, under the leadership of Mr. and Mrs. Eckland, held a very entertaining masquerade dance last Friday night in the School Hall. The Burns Lake Serenaders supplied the music. Prize-winners were Mrs. T. P. Smith, Misses C. Manson, R. M. Campbell and Vera Watson, T. P. Smith and H. A. Bushfield. The prizes all consisted of handwork, carving by the boys and fancy work by the girls. Very handsome articles were much appreciated by the recipients.

Bishop Rix of Prince Rupert was a visitor here last week the guest of Rev. and Mrs. J. E. Whittles. While here he showed some very interesting views of Anglican Coast Mission boats and other phases of activity.

The last meeting of St. Paul's Ladies' Aid until fall was held on Tuesday last at the home of Mrs. M. F. Nourse, with Mrs. John Gowans, president, in the chair. Routine business was dispensed with and the study book chapter dealt with the subject "Learning to Live Together." A social time was spent. Mrs. F. Bushfield was asked to preside at the tea table. Mrs. L. McLeod was welcomed as a new member.

The Tintagel Ladies' Aid made a very substantial donation to the hospital here. St. Paul's United Manse Committee also benefited from the tea held June 3.

Farewell services were held on Sunday by Rev. F. Bushfield at Topley, Palling and Burns Lake. In the evening the text chosen was "Christ the Good Shepherd." Local flowers brightened the church. A request solo "My Task" was sung by Mrs. Bushfield with Miss C. Manson at the piano. Next Sunday services will be held at Uncha Valley, Ootsa Lake and Wistaria.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Nelly, who recently sold out their farm just west of here, have left with their two children, to make their home in St. Petersburg, Florida. Enroute they will visit at Bradford, Pennsylvania.

TROPICS VISITED

Many Calls Made in Round World Trip, Including Orient, Described to Rotary Club by Ed Lipsett

Edward Lipsett of Vancouver was the speaker at the Prince Rupert Rotary Club luncheon yesterday, telling of a number of incidents on a recent round the world trip by way of Japan, Hong Kong, Singapore, Java, Manila and East African ports. He touched at many of them and evidently was touched by a number of people along the route who sold him and Mrs. Lipsett curios.

Coming north on the Canadian National steamship Prince Charles, Mr. Lipsett said a brief call was made at Cape St. James. He declared that, although they had seen many beautiful places on their trip last winter, they had seen nothing as fine as the most southerly point of the Queen Charlotte Islands. At that place there were hundreds of sea lions in full view, a marvellous sight.

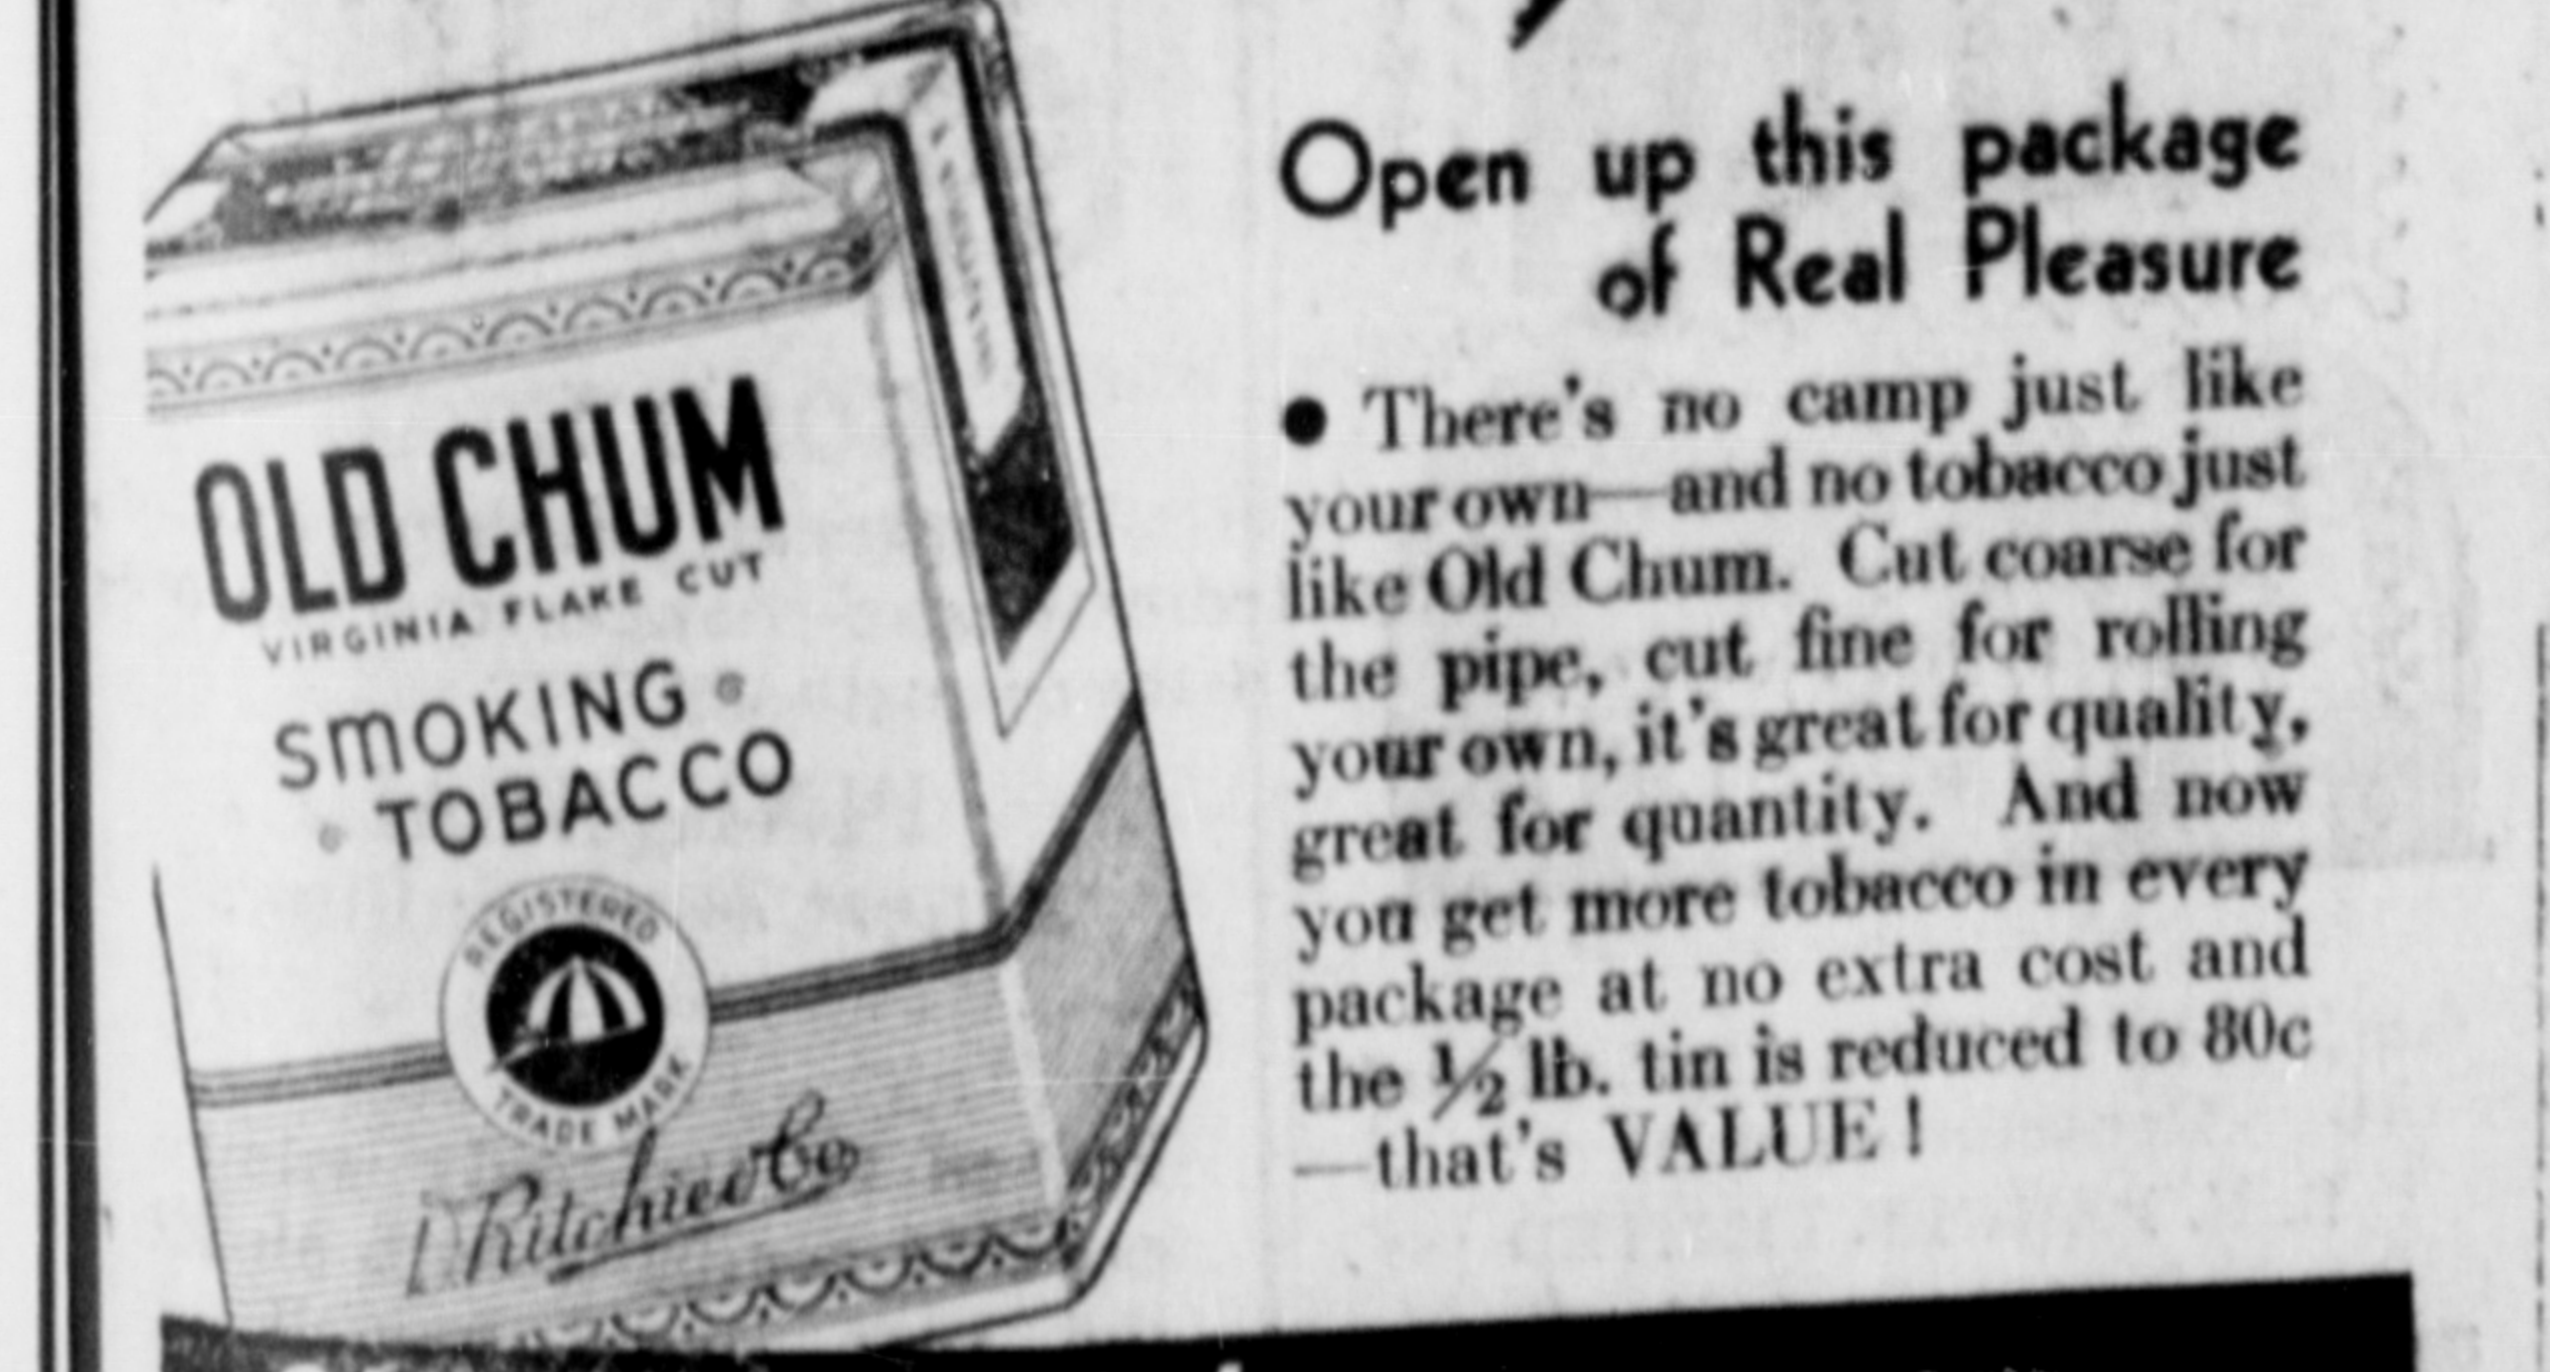

Visited Orient

Stopping at Japanese ports the visitor said he found there was a scarcity of tourists in the country. A visitor could not carry a camera ashore for it was more than his life was worth to do so. The Grand Hotel at Yokohama had 230 employees and 35 guests, an indication that the tourist trade was dead. Christmas, a rather dull one, was spent in Japan and New Year at Hong Kong.

Shanghai the traveller found very little changed. Most of the damage of the war had been repaired except on the large railway station which was left, he thought, as an object lesson of what would happen to the Chinese if they did not behave themselves. There were a million refugees in the international settlement and over a million in the British territory adjoining Hong Kong.

At the New Year celebration in Hong Kong there were 700 people present at a dinner dance at the hotel, half of whom were Chinese. The Chinese ladies were dressed in the very latest style and to see them no one would have thought the country was at war. At midnight a huge egg was rolled into the room and when the shell was broken a singing girl came out and entertained them. They spent a week at Hong Kong and landing there and seeing the British war vessels gave a feeling of peace and security which they did not find elsewhere.

The French city of Saigon seemed to be populated chiefly by Chinese. They cultivated the rice fields, plowing with the picturesque water buffalo. It was a beautiful city and seemed to be noted for its temples, canals and bad smells. One feature of doing business there was
