Norman L. Freeman, who has been local representative of the International Fisheries Commission for years and who has now been transferred to Seattle, left on the Princess Norah yesterday to visit Ketchikan, Juneau and other Alaska points on official business. He expects to proceed direct south from Alaska to Seattle to assume his new duties. Mr. Freeman's successor here will be Olaf Ericksen who is no stranger to Prince Rupert, having often been here before on Commission duties.

THE SILVER QUESTION

Editor, Daily News:

Regarding your editorial of March 11 dealing with the fixing of silver price at 65c per ounce, a summary of the editorial appears to oppose the idea on the assumption that the taxpayer would have to make good the margin between 45c and 65c.

You compare it with the 80c bonus on wheat. In my opinion the enacting of the proposed silver legislation would function entirely differently from the wheat bonus in as much as it is proposed to legalize the coining of newly mined silver into coins and certificates to a ratio of 25 perent of the gold that is now supposed to be the basis of currency issue in Canada.

This newly mined silver would be paid for through the newly amalgamated metal arrangement, making silver a partner of gold in the Canadian currency. Thus it would be made possible to operate silver properties profitably, enhance the circulation money, increase employment and in my opinion, help everyone, inthe *taxpayers, which we all are locked up in mother earth, serving prior therea no useful purpose, would be at once set to work as a medium of exchange in the transaction of the nation's business. Through the TERRACE, March 13 .- In the Oddfellow's Hall Friday evening a very interesting and entertaining illustrated lecture was given by Dr. Neal Carter of Prince Rupert, the subject being "Mountaineering in the Coast Range of British Columbia." The hall was full to overflowjing. The pictures which were thrown on the screen showed something of the wonders that may be introduced Dr. Carter to the gather- the south, particularly his visit to the San Francisco Exhibition. After the lecture, there was a short meeting of the Board of the lecture, and it was decided to vertisement for best results
