SPORT CHAT

Harold (Jug) McSpadden, Massachusetts golfer, put on steam in the home stretch to capture the Miami open golf tournament from Henry Picard, Hershey, Pa., by a single stroke one year ago today. Sammy Snead, holder of the Canadian championship, tied for seventh place. This Sunday the order was reversed with Snead winning the event and McSpadden finishing second.

Ernie Schaaf pounded out a 10-round decision over Maxie Baer, later world heavyweight champion, in his first fight at New York nine years ago today. Three years later Schaaf was pounded unmercifully by giant Primo Carnera at New York and was carried to his corner while 20,000 fans yelled "fake." He died in hospital four days later.

Near Home Body Suits Him Best

Lonely Cobbler of 78 Picks 58-Year Old Customer For Bride

HANWORTH, Eng., Dec. 19: (CP)—The 78-year old shoemaker who got "tired of living alone" and asked the mayor to find him a spouse, has chosen a wife from the 600 offers of marriage he received when "the news leaked out."

His 58-year old bride, a white-haired Yorkshire woman, was not altogether a stranger to her husband for she had known him slightly for the past year through calling occasionally with shoes. She lived only a mile away. Eldest of a family of 13, she is looking forward to her new life. "I don't want anyone to look upon our wedding as a joke. I have had trouble and up to now have had a sweetheart," she said earnestly.

"She is a fine woman, exactly the type I have been looking for and I think we have fallen in love with each other," the happy bridegroom said. "I had letters from as far off as the Isle of Man. Fifty women actually called at my shop, some were not much more than 30, wearing their hats all on one side and wanting me to go to the pictures," he told reporters disparagingly.
