F. J. Martin, one of the original stakers of the Native Silver discoveries on Roche de Boule mountain, near Hazelton, is in town on his way up river. He says that Joseph and Arthur Trethewey, the famous Cobalt mining millionaires, have interested themselves in Hazelton properties and are likely to undertake extensive operations there this year.

E. C. Gibbons of this city and J. A. Rife of Hazelton will prosecute vigorous development work on their Cree group of claims in the Hazelton district during the summer.

At a prominent place on Second avenue can be seen real old Texas cotton growing profusely. It is from seed sent from the Lone Star state and appears to thrive in Rupert muskeg.

Mr. John Riddington, who assisted in preparing the Liberal platform at the recent convention in Vancouver, was a passenger for the south on the George.

Constable Bailey stated that Marcelle's name was on the register of redlight women on January 1st. Daisy Adams he knew had been resident in the "Two Mile" district at Hazelton. Constable Hamlin said that three weeks ago he had seen Lena Silver and Marcelle about the Windsor Hotel once or twice. Marcelle had now left town on the Prince George before witness had had time to serve a summons upon her. Constable Merritt stated that William Wright had one time told him that there was a woman of the redlight district staying at the hotel, but that she had just come off the boat and was sick and under Dr. Kergin's care. Her name was Marcelle Renee. Mr. Wright had told him that as soon as the woman was well enough she would be told to go. The case was adjourned until tomorrow.
