SERVICE CLUB IS GROWING

Vancouver Has 250 Members, Victoria, 130; New Westminster, 50; Port Moody, 50 and Port Alberni Next

VICTORIA, Aug. 3.—The British Columbia Women's Service Club—whose aim is to train women for auxiliary service in any emergency, whether it be war or not — has grown to the point where its four units could now combine and parade almost a full peacetime battalion strong.

Last week the club achieved the first step toward its main goal, that of recognition as a definite part of the Dominion's defence forces, when Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Minister of National Defence, told a delegation of its officers that he fully approved of the work the club was doing.

The four—Mrs. N. Kennedy, president; Miss I. K. Carey, treasurer; Miss M. E. Brown, secretary, and Miss J. MacLennan, director of meetings—went over from Victoria to Vancouver for the interview with the minister.

At the same time the officers announced the formation of two new detachments in New Westminster and Port Moody.

The Victoria detachment—first of its sort to be formed in Canada—now has 130 members, a strength which its organizers believe is likely to remain stable, representing a proper proportion by militia standards.

The Vancouver unit numbers about 250 women and the new units at Port Moody and New Westminster have each between 50 and 75 members.

Port Alberni Next

It is expected a fifth detachment, at Port Alberni, will come into existence when the Women's Service Club, which is inactive during July and August, resumes its regular training program.

The reason the club wants to become a part of the national defence set-up—as similar organizations are in all other parts of the British Empire—is not that it yearns to parade in uniform, Mrs. Kennedy said here, but that it requires the instruction and equipment which would become available to it through a connection with the militia.

The work of the club is divided into four main sections, motor transport, including the study of motor mechanics, map reading, radio and signalling and actual driving of cars and trucks; first aid, with the members taking the St. John Ambulance Association course, training in stretcher-bearing and studying hygiene, sanitation and medical supplies; commissariat work, including dietetics, the ordering and dispensing of supplies and camp cooking, and clerical work which involves the study of army rules and procedures, military correspondence and codes.

The club differs from the register of women for national service which is being started in Ontario in that it gives actual active training. One of its main objects is to provide a corps of women ready to step in and train others in the event of an emergency.

The idea, which originated in Victoria, has already spread beyond British Columbia. Similar clubs have been formed in Peterboro, Ont., and on Quebec's Gaspe Peninsula and another is projected in Edmonton.

REFRESHING TALK GIVEN

Local Gyro Club Inspired by Jack Vickers, Vancouver Member, Whose Subject Was "Training for Profit"

"Training for Profit" was the subject of a refreshing talk delivered in an inspiring way before the Prince Rupert Gyro Club yesterday by John D. Vickers, sales manager of the Canadian Johns-Manville Co. and a member of the Vancouver Gyro Club. Mr. Vickers treated his subject not only from the standpoint of profit materially but also mentally, physically and spiritually.

Public speaking, Mr. Vickers declared, was a most valuable art in the building of a career. Possibly, there was nothing more important than the ability to speak effectively before the public. It was something that everybody who would be completely successful in almost any line should possess. To be able to speak eloquently was probably more valuable than to be wise and grey in counsel.

The art of salesmanship was another factor of importance in practically every phase of endeavour. Salesmanship, the ability to break down doubt and resistance, entered into almost everything in life. Everyone tried to sell something—not only material things but in the accomplishment of ambitions, desires etc. Even nature had things to sell.

Service to one's fellowman Mr. Vickers gave as a factor of primary importance in training for profit of any kind.

President W. M. Watts was in the chair and extended the appreciation of his listeners to Mr. Vickers for his fine talk. Luncheon guests were Ernest Meadows, Howard Frizzell, George Mitchell and Neil Ross.

Col. McMordie Prominent At Niagara Falls

The Niagara Falls Evening Review makes prominent mention of the visit to that Ontario city of Lieut. Col. S. P. McMordie D.S.O., formerly of Prince Rupert and now manager of the Capitol Theatre at Nelson, to attend the convention of the Famous Players Canadian Corporation. There is a front page article telling of the distinguished career of Col. McMordie as contractor, officer in the Great War, mayor of Prince Rupert and theatre executive. Incidentally, the twenty years ago column of the same issue of the paper refers to a reception which Col. McMordie was given on his return to Prince Rupert from overseas after the Great War.

MELODRAMA OF TRAVEL

"The Lady Vanishes" is Feature Offering Tonight and Friday at Capitol Theatre

"The Lady Vanishes," another British picture showing tonight and Friday at the Capitol Theatre here, concerns itself with a motley group of characters all of whom are passengers on a continental express train travelling through a Balkan country. Margaret Lockwood is going home to London to be married. Michael Redgrave, a young expert on folk music, is gathering data for a book. Paul Lukas is a famous specialist. Dame May Whitty is a harmless English governess going home after years of service abroad. Also on the train are a couple on honeymoon, a pair of Englishmen to whom nothing is as important as cricket and many others, some sinister and some innocent. The little English governess vanishes into thin air and Margaret Lockwood, whom she has befriended, finds herself bucking a stone wall when she attempts to locate her. A veritable hornet's nest of scandal is stirred up and there is nearly an international incident. All this makes for an intriguing hour and a half of entertainment.

Melodramatic incidents include the activities of spies and counter-spies, trouble in the Balkans, death on the railway train, gunplay and other excitement.

KISS YOUR TIRED FEELING GOODBYE!

Pepless Many Suffer Low Blood Count—And Don't Know It.

The baffling thing about low blood count is that you can weigh about as much as you ever did — even look healthy and strong, yet — you can feel as if you had lead in your legs, dopey, tired and pepless.

Low blood count means you haven't got enough red blood corpuscles. It is their vital job to carry life-giving oxygen from your lungs throughout your body. And just as it takes oxygen to explode gasoline in your car and make the power to turn the wheels, so you must have plenty of oxygen to explode the energy in your body and give you going power.

Get Dr. Williams Pink Pills today. They are world-famous for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with your blood count up, you'll feel like bounding up the stairs as if you were floating on air. Ask your druggist for Dr. Williams Pink Pills today.
