BOMBING ON British Bomb Berlin For Several Hours In Early Morning; Much Damage

Bombs Dropped on German Capital as Inhabitants Scurry to Air Raid Shelters-Many German Planes Shot Down Over Britain

BERLIN, Aug. 26.—Hundreds of anti-aircraft guns went into action early this morning as British war planes swept over the blackout cloud that blanketed the capital and kept the residents huddled in shelters for three hours. The cannonading was so incessant that observers were unable to tell whether the blasts of the bombs, which were mingled with gunfire, were those of the invaders or the defenders.

The British planes came over the city in at least four waves.

LONDON, August 26.—The Air Ministry in a communique issued this morning said that armament factories in the Berlin area were bombed as well as targets in northwestern Germany and the Ruhr.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—Last night the British carried the war into the heart of Germany when for over three hours they forced the residents of the capital city to take refuge in their air raid shelters. The first raid took place half an hour after midnight and the planes then remained over the city for an hour and forty minutes carefully

He had been agreeably surprised at the change in the horticultural situation since he was here in 1927. He saw a great future for gardening in and around this city.

In the matter of advice, Mr. Clarke urged that the local society or a group of members purchase at least one blow torch for the purpose of burning the weeds and killing insects around their gardens. This was a very effective way of controlling weed seeds and many insects, fungi growths and slugs. The torches had been in use for this purpose for about three years and their use was spreading. A lot of ground could be covered at little cost in money or time. The cost was $25 for the torch.

Mr. Clarke gave a number of dusting preparations such as bluestone and lime, one part to 9 to be dusted lightly on the plants at frequent intervals. A kerosine spray could also be used effectively to kill plaintain or dandelions in the
