ANNIVERSARY OF BAPTISTS

Thirtieth Birthday of Church Celebrated With Supper Monday Night

Members and friends of First Baptist Church met at supper in the parlors of the church Monday evening to commemorate the thirtieth anniversary of the organization of the church. After an enjoyable meal, an interesting program befitting the occasion was rendered. The pastor of the church, Rev. E. E. Brandt, was in the chair. A well prepared address describing highlights of the early history of the church was given by H. M. Daggett. To the pioneers of the city many of the names mentioned and events referred to proved most interesting. Those who arrived in the community at a later date appreciated the labors of the pioneers.

Interesting items on the program were a bass solo by George Sinclair, admirably rendered, and a lively community singing led by G. R. S. Blakaby.

The address of the evening was given by Rev. Dr. J. Willard Litch, organizer of the church and now pastor of the Kerrisdale Baptist Church of Vancouver. Drawing les-

Little Theatre Presenting Play

Farce To Be Staged By Local Group Next Week At Booth School

"Her Husband's Wife," the first play produced by the newly organized Prince Rupert Little Theatre, will be presented to the public at the auditorium of the Booth Memorial High School on December 4 and 5. It has been decided by this local dramatic group whose first appearance to Prince Rupert people it will be. The play had a very successful run in professional stock before being made available to amateurs.

The plot is based around Irene Randolph, who, living a life of ease and loved by a devoted husband, suddenly becomes obsessed with the idea that she is not to live long and that she must choose a wife for her husband—someone who will be good to him after she is gone. Unwittingly, she picks Emily Ladew, ex-fiancee of Irene's brother, Richard, as her husband's second wife. From then on the plot thickens and becomes funnier and funnier.

Included in the cast are Miss Margaret McLachlan as Irene Randolph, Edward Stark as her husband, Bruce Stephens as Uncle Mrs. J. A. Lindsay, Mrs. Gus Berg, John, Miss Coral Rogers as Emily Mrs. J. Armstrong, Mrs. Frank Morris and Mrs. Frank Glass. Servitors were Misses Edith Johnston, King as the color blind maid, Nora Kay Watson and Mrs. Rolph Walker and Mrs. Don Ritchie.

CONVENTION AT SIMPSON

Port Simpson is making preparations to receive some forty or fifty delegates to the annual convention of the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia which will be held at the neighboring village commencing next Monday and lasting probably the most of the week. It is hoped to have the delegates at Simpson by Sunday when special church services will be held as a prelude to the convention.

Delegates will come from as far south as Squirrel Cove, near Powell River, as far north as the Naas River, west to the Queen Charlotte Islands and east to Moricetown in the interior.

Alfred Adams of Massett is president of the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia.

The liver should pour out two pints of bile into your bowels daily. If it does not flow freely, you feel drowsy, tired, it just hangs in the bowels, gas, bloating, your stomach. You get constipated. Bile poisons go into the body, and you feel sick and the world looks pink.

Value Of Humor . . .

Probably there never has been a time when the value of humor has been as well illustrated as in the defence of Britain. The London cockneys have had to take the bombing possibly more than any one. Yet amid it all they joke and laugh and sing and this lightheartedness carries them through.

The bombing is really no joke. No man knows when he or his family may be wiped out by an explosion, yet the blitz is made a joke and this joking tends to get rid of the feeling of dread. Many a man in England cracks a joke with his last breath and no one can tell us he is less likely to enter a happy hereafter than the man who died with a prayer on his lips.

Large Audience . . .

When an advertiser buys a space in the Daily News he knows or should know that he is addressing an audience often to twelve thousand people. If he remembers this he will take a good deal of care with the preparation of the advertisement. If he were to stand before an audience of ten thousand people in a huge auditorium he would need to spend a good deal of time preparing his speech. If he did not make good the people would walk out on him. That happens to some advertisements. The matter is not carefully prepared and the readers of the paper overlook it.

The editors of this paper take a good deal of care in the selection and publication of the news and the opinions offered. The result is that more and more people read it. If advertisers do the same they will also get results. Many are getting good results from their advertising and all can do the same.

Chance To Make Good . . .

It is quite possible that Mussolini has asked Hitler not to interfere in his war with Greece. It would be considered rather a disgraceful thing for the Italians to have to be rescued from their present predicament in Albania. Doubtless the Italian high command feels that it can yet defeat the smaller and much despised country and can redeem its name as a defeated nation. At any rate by Hitler holding his hand it will give the Italians a chance to make good. So word goes out to the world that Hitler will not interfere.
