FORD'S REFUSAL

Most Canadians will share the resentment of those stegavig, Spear, Arlington, McInmembers of Parliament, who spoke in the House yester-tosh, Rush, Gray. day on the refusal of Henry Ford to make airplane engines for Great Britain. The difficulty is that, while there is a firm in Canada bearing the Ford name and making Grotto the Ford cars, this firm is owned by thousands of Canadians as well as by the parent company. Also, as the minister of supply stated in the House, the Ford Company of Canada is engaged in war work in Canada. The Canadian government could insist that the Ford Company of Can-i ada make the engines needed but it has no power over the American company. Injuring the Ford Company of Burton-Willison, Vancouver. Canada would hold up the war work going forward at Windsor.

KEEP JOBS FOR SOLDIERS

Men who wish to enlist in any branch of the Canadian army or navy should have their jobs secured for them if they wish to return when the war is over. They have a C. E. Anderson, Barrett Point; H. right to demand this. It is possible that the government R. Anderson, Frederick Point. might well make this a condition of enlistment. Most Canadian firms will make it clear to their employees that ning's train for a visit in Prince they can return when the fighting is finished. It is hoped George. that all will make this clear so that no discouragement may be put in the way of the men who wish to go.

STRONG ON CANARDS

Germany and Italy are strong on canards. False des- with the Royal Canadian Artillery patches are sent out, either direct or through some other country with intent to mislead the world. The latest of these is a rumor that Britain is seeking the good offices of Spain to get peace terms from Germany and Italy. These countries can be assured that Great Britain will dictate her own terms. Sir Samuel Hoare is the ambassador to! Spain but he is not a peace delegate.
