REPRESENTATION OR MIS-REPRESENTATION

At the present time there are thousands of citizens who have made application to be placed upon the voters' list and are morally entitled to vote at the present election. These people, owing to the action of the government in forcing the election with such extreme haste, are deprived of their right to vote.

There are thousands of names upon the voters' list of people who have died or have removed from the districts in which they are registered. A number of revising officers have refused to comply with the provisions of the statute in respect to removing the names of persons objected to, and for this reason it has been found impossible to purge the voters' list of the names of voters no longer entitled to remain thereon.

The provisions of the present election law which allow persons to vote anywhere in the district in which they are registered render it impossible to prevent repeating and personation at elections.

The provincial government has enacted legislation which has and will benefit promoters, corporations and speculators to the extent of hundreds of millions of dollars at the expense of the people at large. It is in the interests of these promoters, corporations and speculators to contribute immense sums of money for the purpose of securing the return to the legislature of such persons as will support the government from whom they receive such favors.

Under the provisions of the statutes in respect of crown lands, timber leases and licenses, coal and petroleum licenses and liquor licenses, and in many other respects the ministers of the Crown have the power to injure seriously those politically opposed to them, and correspondingly favor those who support the government.

A large majority of fire wardens, provincial police, license commissioners and inspectors, road superintendents and road foremen are political appointees of the government, and are actively engaged as electioneering agents on behalf of the government.

Immense sums of public money which are annually expended in public works are directed with the view of securing political support rather than to secure the maximum of benefit to the public.

The present basis of representation has no regard to area, interests or population and is inequitable. Present conditions favor personation, bribery and corruption. For the above reasons it is impossible to obtain a fair, unbiased expression of the wishes of the people at an election.

We no longer have representative or responsible government in the province.

The Liberal party demands a thorough revision of the voters' list, a proper and immediate redistribution of representation, the division of constituencies now electing more than one member of the legislature into separate electoral districts, giving to each district one representative, the division of electoral districts into polling districts so as to effectually prevent repeating and personation, and the extension of the franchise to adults, irrespective of sex.

WHO OWNS THE SOUTH POLE?

Question Puzzles Authorities on International Law—Necessary to Occupy and Possess Land Discovered Besides Plant Flag.

The question of whether Norway owns the territory surrounding the South Pole, which has just been discovered by Captain Amundsen, already is being discussed by authorities on international law.

Ever since 1778, when Captain Cook's expedition planted a flag in the Antarctic, explorers of various nations have carried their flags to various parts approaching the South Pole. It is generally believed the land in the Antarctic will be regarded in the same way as the Spitzbergen archipelago, which is inhabited by men of various nations and now is regarded as a joint possession of all mankind.

John Bassett Moore, professor of international law at Columbia University, points out that leading authorities have taken the position that discovery alone does not suffice to give good title to a new unoccupied land and that the customs of the nations for centuries has crystallized into a part of the law of nations that in order to perfect the right given by discovery it must be followed by general occupation.

Professor Moore says that the task of occupying the territory surrounding the South Pole undoubtedly will prove more difficult than its discovery and that it was extremely unlikely that the question of ownership would ever be brought up to the joint commission of arbitration for settlement.

New Westminster, March 8.—Word was received here today that John McNamara, alias "Australian Mack," was discharged in New York, where he was arraigned for the nineteenth time before United States Commissioner Shields for extradition on the charge of looting the Bank of Montreal here of $258,000.

The motion of McNamara's attorney for his discharge was not opposed by the British government because of lack of evidence.
