MUST GO ON

There is evidently good sense in the words of Oliver Stanley, war minister in the Chamberlain government, when he said that if the war stopped now it would be followed by an uneasy peace. In fact it would be no peace at all. It would be simply an adjournment of the war.

It goes without saying that we all want peace but it must be something more than a return to the jitters period. Hitler is an adept at securing concessions without fighting for them. He would like another opportunity of ? doing that but he will not get it.

USE NEW FLAG

In connection with the arrival of the first Canadian contingent in England it became necessary to use some distinctive ensign. Discussing this the Winnipeg Free Press says:

"It was casually made known that Canada has a new. flag to be used overseas in this war. In reporting the arrival of the first contingent in Britain, the Canadian Press referred to "the new white ensign of the senior formation" of the Canadian Active Service Force, with its maple leaves and its fleurs de lis,' which flew from the masthead of the flagship of the fleet of transports. The Union Jack is in the upper quarter next to the staff.

"This is very interesting. The new flag was approved by the government just before the headquarters staff of House for SALE 5 large rooms the first contingent left Ottawa. On other occasions, the flag of the Canadian merchant marine has been used outside of Canada. But it is improperly used on land (except FOR SALE-28 ft trolling boat with on our foreign legations and on Canada House in London. for which special authorization has been given), and everything must be done properly and according to regula- FOR SALE Boat with 5 n.p. Keltion, in the army. Hence the sudden improvisation, in the face of this new national emergency, of a distinctive Canadian flag. Evidently it was recognized that it would have been absurd for this country, with its claim to nationhood FOR SALE-Radio Special, and with all that it proposes to do in this war to justify that claim, to send forces overseas without any flag of their own.

"This special authorization of an emblem for the particular purpose would never have been necessary, of course, but for the interminable delay in adopting a Can- WANTED-Furnished or adian flag for use on land. The opposition to this, and the curious fear that it might help to sunder Canada from the British family, have now almost all disappeared. But we are sure that the vast majority of Canadians will be interested in the fact that our overseas forces have a Canadian flag, and that they will heartily endorse this action and will hope that this or some other flag will soon be authorized for general use on land."
