Picnic At Sangan On Dominion Day

Interesting Community Outing Near Masset This Week

MASSETT, July 5:-There was a very interesting community picnic at Sangan Beach on Dominion Day. The morning was wet and unpleasant but it cleared later in the day and the picnic was much enjoyed. A full schedule of children's races was pulled off and golf was played. Most of the people of the village were present.

Deer and Pheasant Are Abundant on Beautiful Queen Charlottes

Visitors to the Queen Charlotte Islands this year remark upon the large number of deer running wild leverywhere. There are also large numbers of pheasant and grouse chicks, the season evidently being a good one for the birds. Scarcity in the past few years is ascribed to i hawks, which were numerous and preyed on the chicks in past sea-

The islands are very beautiful just now. In Port Clements particularly the foxgloves are running wild and brighten up the landscape in a most striking manner. .

QUAKE SHOOK THE ISLANDS

Houses Swayed, Dishes Rattled and in Some Cases Smashed Wednesday Morning

A very distinct earthquake shook the Queen Charlotte Islands on the morning of Wednesday this week but no damage was done. Houses shook, dishes rattled and in some cases toppled off the shelves and broke. Every telephone was much in use finding out what places had felt the shock.

The quake occurred at 8:02 Wednesday morning and was clearly felt at Queen Charlotte City, Tlell, Port Clements, Skidegate and Mas-
