From The Waterfront

Leverston Lake at the head of Wark Canal yielded some one hundred fine cutthroat trout, some of real competition proportions, to the rods of a party consisting of Adolf Iverson, Don Crerar, Capt. Harry Ormiston, Don Ritchie, Sid Hunter, G. A. Hunter and Alistair Crerar which made the trip to that resort over the Dominion Day holiday week-end with Capt. Ole Skog aboard his big new seineboat Thelma S. It was the first trip out of the Thelma S. since she arrived a couple of weeks ago from the builders. Shortly she will be starting seining for the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. The fishing party left here Saturday afternoon and returned Monday afternoon. Weather was splendid for the Saturday and Sunday fishing even if it did rain on Monday, the big ones were biting hungrily and the party had a good time angling in one of the most attractive spots in this district from a scenic standpoint.

Another week-end fishing party was that which made a trip to Salmon River and Kngaal Inlet in Grenville Channel with Skipper F. A. MacCallum on the Arranmore. In this party, which had good fishing results, were Archie Sloan, Hubert Ward, George Abbott and John Walker. They left Saturday night and returned last night.

Heading for Muddy Creek up the Eestall River were Jim Bacon and Joe Ratchford in one party and Mr. and Mrs. William Richards and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Moorehouse in another.

Several small boat parties were compelled to spend last night across the harbor at the Salt Lake and other points because of a sudden southwest gale which came up and made the crossing of the harbor impossible until this morning. This was rather an unusual blow for this time of the year.
