NOT ONE HORSE

MELBOURNE, Nov. 29: (CP)—The whole of the Australian Imperial Force that left the Commonwealth for the war areas was mechanized—not a horse went with it, said Army Minister McBride in reporting on Australian operations.

CHILDREN'S REPRIEVE

GLASGOW, Nov. 29: (CP)—Glasgow magistrates, by five votes to two, rejected a proposal for a curfew for children under 12 during the winter blackout. Even London, with constant raids, has not enforced a curfew, it was pointed out.

VILLAGE LIFE IN ENGLAND

how 1200 persons arrived at one centre. They were met by all the various village billeting officers and fed, put up for the night and then divided up and taken to the parish rooms and finally to their new lodgings. The householders are paid five shillings a week for each adult and three shillings for children and they find their own food. Some of the people are elderly and some very young.

One Hundred Killed

The letter tells of a workshop being caught by surprise by the Nazis, a bomb dropped and one hundred people were killed and a few wounded. The following night the Nazis returned but this time they were met by some Spitfires and they got a bad reception.

Bombs have been dropped in the country places in open ground. At first the villagers stayed awake at night watching for them but now they sleep every night and, although they often hear planes passing overhead, they are not worried. Boys of teen age often belong to the mobile home guards. They are not only ready to help in case of attack but they carry out protective duties such as protecting telephone kiosks with sandbags.

The writer tells of one of the private schools for boys where they all sleep in bunks in shelters beneath the school. The Germans tried to bomb the school but the incendiary bombs fell in the playground just missing the buildings. The shelter is illuminated by electric light.

Rationing is carried out everywhere. Each person gets two ounces of tea, six ounces of sugar, two ounces of butter, six ounces of margarine and two ounces of cooking fat. Meat is two shillings and four pence a pound. The sugar ration is the worst deprivation but they are getting used to it.

The writer says she can hear the anti-aircraft guns in the distance as she is writing, yet she is twelve miles from a city.

Railway Pudding Weighs Over Ton

Huge Quantities of Ingredients for Xmas Delivery

MONTREAL, Nov. 30.—To make a good Christmas pudding take 201 pounds of bread crumbs, 100 dozen eggs, 100 quarts of milk, 215 pounds of brown sugar and various other ingredients in proper proportion.

Those are the quantities chefs of Canadian National Railways have been working with recently.

The giant pudding, enough to serve the dining cars of the system during the Christmas season, weighs more than a ton.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

November 29, 1940

A public meeting is to be held in the City Hall to consider grievances to be taken up with the fisheries department. The fisheries committees of the city council and Board of Trade will present reports with recommendations.

All telegraph lines are down today on account of storms in the interior. There were no war dispatches for the Daily News as a result.

Former Purser Bachus of the steamer Prince Rupert is now serving in the trenches in France.

THREE TIMES LUCKY

LONDON, Nov. 29: (CP)— A Hussar officer, taken prisoner in Belgium by the Germans, has reached England after escaping his captors three times. He disguised himself as a refugee peasant to get to a friendly port.

ODD SIGHTS OF LONDON

Doormen Flanked by Debris Still Polish Brass—Radios Blare in Blackouts

By D. E. BURRITT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Nov. 29: (CP)— Seen or heard in London:

Hawkers doing a roaring business in the subway shelters . . . "chocolates, sweets, ices" . . . automatic vending machines emptied within a few minutes of arrival of first shelter refugees . . . the city in pitch blackness but radios still blare into the night and provide a ghost-like background for lone travellers.

A tiny motorcar with its nose buried in a bomb crater still flaunted its important red-lettered notice across the rear window, "priority" . . . Chinese laundryman, an odd sight in West London, shuffling along with huge bag over his shoulder and a tin hat hiding most of his facial features . . . doorman in brilliant livery polishing hotel nameplates with usual vigor though bomb debris piled waist-high on either side of door . . .

But Going Strong

"Ladies Only" said the sign hanging drunkenly over a broken gas main over which 14 men were laboring . . . "No Depression in This House" said the sign hanging in a doorway . . . the doorway was all that was left of the house . . . "Established 1628 and STILL Open" said the sign over a damaged wine house . . .

A new boy brings the groceries now . . . "oh, the other bloke," collected a packet on 'is bike" (he meant his predecessor had been killed by a bomb) . . .

Climb over the debris to read "warning" tacked on the wreckage of a building . . . in letters so small you can't read them five feet away it says "keep away as there is danger of injury from falling masonry."
