AN AMERICAN TO AMERICANS

A few extracts from an article by Lawrence Hunt in the New Yor Times, January 14, 1940

"Pontius Pilate still lives."

"For the last twenty years we Americans have been fooling ourselves as Pilate tried to do in another practica situation."

"As a nation we have managed so far to escape from; reality and the tough responsibilities of being a first rate

"Had Germany won (the last war) the Treaty of Ver-119th century landscape painter, sailles, in comparison with the German peace terms, would was bequeathed to the Royal Acahave seemed like the Sermon on the Mount."

"We wanted to preach, not work, for a world of peace hamstead.

"England and France and associates fought the war! for three years while we waxed rich at their expense."

"Let's stop talking about being 'bamboozled' by wily hagen caught a big fish in her er. foreign diplomats. It's just another way of fooling our- net but couldn't hold it. The vessel selves and evading our responsibilities."

"America entered the last war for many reasons. The most immediate and compelling reason was simply that whose periscope was seen later. have to sell Germany, after repeated warnings and protests, continued to sink ships without warning with a loss of American lives. If Germany had not sunk our ships and, if American lives had not been lost in those actions, we would not have entered the war."

"English people, French people, American people belive in their hearts that individual freedom is one of those few things worth fighting for and if needs be dying for."

"The conquest of Austria, the ruins of Czechoslovak-! ia, the massacre of the Poles, the attack on Finland, the torture of concentration camps, the bestial crimes against, race and religion, purges, 'blood baths', Mein Kampf and the Communist manifesto- they are not English or French or American. No, we are not all alike. We know! all about that. But how long shall we let these propagandists help us to delude ourselves?"

"Perhaps the loveliest self-delusion we are enjoying at the moment is the picture of America acting as a sweet, holier-than-thou peacemaker when the war ends."

"Suppose the Nazi-Communists win? Well, brothers and sisters, if that happens we'll have to do an awful lot more than preaching-far more than if we frankly and actively aided England and France now."

"If the Allies win without our aid, by what right will we have a voice in the peace terms? What will have been America's contribution? A few cheers, lots of 'moral support' and goods for cash down. Again I say don't let ther propagandists fool us. Lets not fool ourselves. We should at least be too adult for that."

"We are asked to shut our eyes to the most blazing truths, to avert our gaze from the plain facts of our contemporary life, to stuff our ears and harden our hearts so that somehow in some way we can escape from the tough realities of this world and as a nation evade the tasks which nature, our moral traditions and the uncompromising forces of destiny have set for us to do."

"In due course Uncle Sam will rub his eyes, stand up, take off his coat, and do a man's job in a hard but worthwhile world."
