Smithers Chamber of Mines Renews Request for Assay Office At Sampling Station

SMITHERS, Feb. 10:-Omineca Branch of the British Columbia

A number of those interested in mining and prospecting were in attendance and a very interesting meeting resulted.

In the election of officers nearly all of those who had held office for the previous year were asked to continue and the final slate of officers and executive was as

Many of those present expressed the need of an assay office at the sampling plant in Prince Rupert to take care of the work for the whole north country as the present method of sending samples to Victoria, where the government office is already heavily burdened. results in very slow returns being received. The executive was instructed to take the matter up again with the government in an effort to have an assay office established at the Prince Rupert and why should I give?

WHAT IS THIS

Canadian Legion War Services sponsor a great, new cause—a service to the men of Canada who are fighting for us in our Army, Navy, and Air Force. To provide funds for this imperative work, a campaign to raise $500,000 is now under way. If you wonder, "Why should I give?" we suggest you read these questions and answers:

- Q. What is the Legion raising this money for?
- A. To provide funds for carrying on educational and personal service work with Canadians who have enlisted in the fighting forces.
- Q. What do you mean by Educational Service?
- A. Men who have enlisted are civilians in khaki who have a serious job to do. In doing that job, they should not develop the mental attitude "we are not coming back," but rather should continually think in terms of "when I go home," that they may be prepared to resume civilian life where they left off. In the hope of encouraging that outlook, it is felt that wherever possible, educational facilities and vocational training while they are on active service should be made available, to occupy their leisure and constantly remind them of the necessity of preparing for the future.
- Q. And what are Personal Services to the Troops? A. This means advice, guidance and actual personal services to men who are far from home and worried or bothered about some problem of a domestic or business nature. Legion War Services can perform an invaluable service to thousands of Canadians through their coast-to-coast organization with 1100 branches in cities, towns and villages throughout Canada. As the war develops, questions of pensions, medical treatment and re-establishment will arise. For years, the Legion has dealt with such problems and the accumulated experience of years will be available to the casualties of the present war.
- Q. Why is Canadian Legion War Services entrusted with this work?
- A. Because of the vast experience of the Legion in dealing with problems of the half-a-million Canadians who served in the Great War of 1914-1918 Dominion Government places deep confidence in Legion activities and recognizes their particular fitness to cope with the problems that will arise during this war and to extend wise counsel to the thousands of men who now serve.
- Q. Do Legion War Services overlap those of the Red
- Cross, Salvation Army, Y.M.C.A., etc.? A. By no means. On the contrary, the Canadian Red Cross have strongly endorsed our activities. It is our definite purpose to avoid infringing upon the work being done by any other organization.
- Q. Why shouldn't the Government undertake this job of education and vocational training?
- A. Under dictator governments, practically all services are administered by the Government, and the rights and privileges of individuals are reduced to a minimum. In Canada we still retain the right to decide whether or not we wish to provide certain services for our fellowmen. In due course it will be the duty of the Government to develop schemes for the return to civil life of the men now employed in the armed forces. In the meantime, the work of educational training is to
- Q. Do men on active service really want to bother about education?

on a voluntary basis.

be carried on under Canadian Legion War Services

A. Where our scheme has been put in operation, the men have shown great eagerness to take advantage of the courses offered. It is not uncommon for 60% of a unit

Q. Are Legion officers qualified to undertake this job of education?

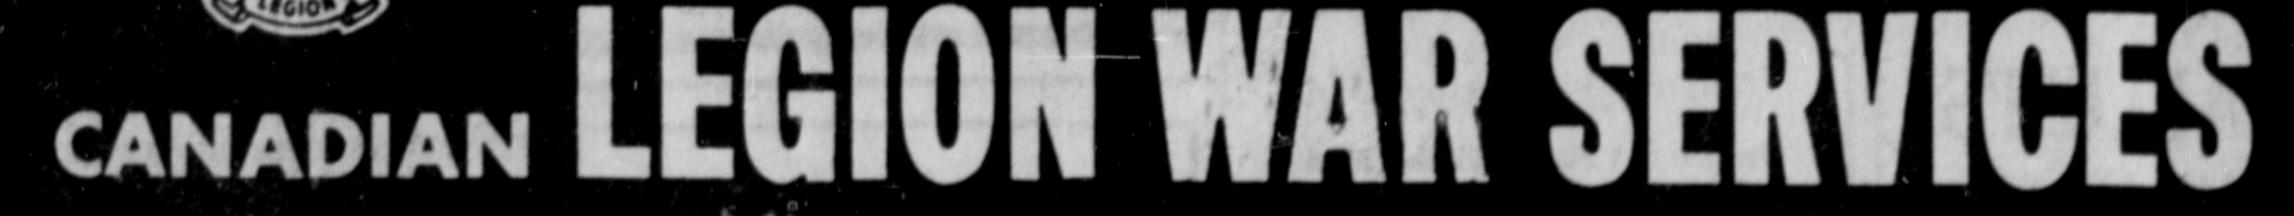

personnel to attend educational courses.

- A. The Legion will organize and finance the plan. The actual educational work will be carried out under the direction of the Canadian Association for Adult Education. The best educationists in Canada and overseas will assist. For instance, as Director of our Educational Work in Canada we have secured the services of Lt.-Col. Wilfrid W. Bovey, of McGill University, who is also Head of the Canadian Association for Adult Education.
- Q. Do your services include helping a man find a job when he gets back?
- A. Yes. To co-operate with him and employers of labor to obtain preference for the men who have qualified themselves for such jobs or positions, and to assist the government in developing plans for the rehabilitation of the men when they return.
- Q. How much of this money will actually go to help the soldiers, and how much will be spent in salaries of armchair workers?
- A. To date we have developed our programme with only two headquarters officers and a very limited number of men in the field, due to the fact that we have been able to utilize the services of our existing personnel free of charge, and also the assistance of so many voluntary workers. No matter how the work may develop, the paid personnel will, having regard to the amount of voluntary services rendered, be very moderate.
- Q. Can my contribution be included as a deduction
- on my income tax? A. Yes. This appeal is registered under the War Charities Act, and as such, the full exemption for War Charities contributions has been authorized by the Secretary of State.
- Q. Will there be an official audit of Legion War Services
- A. Yes. A double audit. Canadian Legion War Services, Inc. is registered under the War Charities Act (Ottawa), and as such its accounts will be audited by the Auditor-General of Canada, in addition to a reputable firm of chartered accountants.
- Q. Will any of the money subscribed be used for regular Canadian Legion purposes?
- A. No, not one cent. All the money subscribed will be spent in the interests of Canadians who are serving in our Navy, Army and Air Force.
- Q. Will any of the money be spent on work other than education and personal service?
- A. Education and personal services will be a first charge on these moneys. Soldiers' concert parties will be provided and recreation huts established where required. It will also be the duty of our experienced personnel, under proper authority, to do such things as may seem reasonable and necessary to contribute to the welfare of the troops, having regard to conditions which may develop. The Legion desires to be ready to meet any emergency which may arise.

This work warrants your support, It is a practical effort which will bring rich dividends in future Canadian manhood. Send or take a generous donation to this great new cause to your nearest Canadian Legion branch.
