M. P. McCaffery Speaks at Meeting of Liberal Executive at Victoria
Recently

From Victoria comes word of the recent meeting of the B. C. Liberal Association executive. According to one who was there Hon. G. M. Weir, Provincial Secretary, announced that difficulties incident to the operation of health insurance in British Columbia are being rapidly overcome. The minister did not give details but the association went on record as fully in accord with putting health insurance into effect.

This was one of 11 resolutions passed by the executive including complete endorsement of the Pattullo government and its present policies.

Personal tribute was paid to the Premier by M. P. McCaffery of Prince Rupert, who mentioned a 40-year association with Mr. Pattullo, in supporting a vote of confidence in his administration.

Resolutions were passed fully endorsing Hon. John Hart's 1941-1942 budget, which has been under attack, supporting Premier Pattullo's attitude on the Rowell-Sirois report, endorsing the new $250,000 educational grant to municipalities and backing the government's decision not to set up a highway commission.

Will Co-operate

In connection with the motion on the Rowell report the Premier said the government intended to co-operate in every way with the federal authority and the other provinces in the war effort.

Another resolution urged, as a measure that the federal government co-operate with the province in the establishment of a metal refining industry on the coast.

Duval MacPherson, former chairman of the House mining committee, made this motion.

Better Pensions

The Liberals came out strongly for better old age pensions, proposing the age limit be reduced from 70 to 65 years and the monthly pension be increased from $20 to $30.

Payment of transportation costs to men on active service when on regular or special leave was advocated.

In the federal field the executive voted complete confidence in the administration of Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Senator J. W. de B. Farris K.C., in moving the resolution, said that Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt and Prime Minister King were the three outstanding statesmen leading the democracies of the world today.

Little Theatre Makes Good In
"Her Husband's Wife," First Public Presentation

The first public appearance of the newly organized Prince Rupert Little Theatre group in the three-act comedy "Her Husband's Wife" at the auditorium of Both Memorial School last night was highly creditable to all concerned and very entertaining for the audience which was present. The effort was well worth-while and warranting of a much larger measure of patronage than it received on opening night. Possibly, this will be rectified on the repeat presentation tonight for it can be heartily recommended.

"Her Husband's Wife" is a typical farce but it permits of a greater degree of versatility for the various members of its cast than is sometimes afforded by such a vehicle. The cast consists of six persons, each of whom carried off his or her role capably. Outstanding performances were by Bruce Stevens, whose experience stood him in good stead, and Miss Margaret McLachlan and Miss Coral Rogers, who, although new before the footlights, were both fine, the former as a temperamental wife and the latter as a poised young lady. Important parts are also carried out well by Edward Stark and John Good. Miss Faith King is a demure maid.

The stage settings have been painstakingly arranged and are very attractive. Lovely costumes are worn by the two principal ladies.

Credit is due the director, Charles Edkins, for his efforts. The stage manager is William Johnson with John Good in charge of properties and Mrs. T. A. McWaters wardrobe mistress.

The supplementary musical program included selections by Mrs. Charles Anderson, violinist; Corporal d'Avill, flautist, and Private Deak-anoff, pianist, and piano duets by Miss Ruth Nelson and Miss Jean McLean.

Between first and second acts last night, City Treasurer D. J. Matheson spoke briefly, lauding the Little Theatre movement and bespeaking public support on its behalf.

Usherettes for the evening were Misses Frances Thomson, Kay Baker, Anne Winslow, Credille Morgan and Marion McLachlan.

Joan Bennett Given Opportunity to Show Versatility in "House
Across the Bay"

With George Raft and Joan Bennett sharing stellar honors and Walter Pidgeon, Gladys George, Lloyd Nolan and June Knight in featured supporting roles, "The House Across the Bay" is being shown on the screen of the Capitol Theatre here tonight and tomorrow. The story is an original one of a young woman who is confronted with the problem of adjusting her life to a strange fate when her husband is sent to prison for income tax evasion.

Miss Bennett has wider scope than usual in this picture for she is seen as an actress and dancer in addition to dramatic opportunities. This is a radical innovation for the actress who in the past has confined herself to more sedate roles.

Elaborate gowns worn by Miss Bennett are a feature of the picture. Outstanding sets include a swank New York night club where the action of the story begins, authentic prison cells and a streamlined race course.

Whifflets
From The Waterfront

On a regularly scheduled voyage from Vancouver to Alaska, C. P. R. steamer Princess Norah, Capt. William Palmer, arrived in port at 9:30 this morning from Vancouver and sailed just one hour later for Skagway and other Alaska points whence she is due back here next Monday afternoon southbound. The vessel had a light list of passengers going north but it is expected to have a heavy load southbound. In all there were 35 passengers on the Princess Norah. One disembarked here and two went north from Prince Rupert.

Ambiguity, due to a typographical error in an important part of the report in yesterday's paper of the International Fisheries Commission meeting Tuesday, might have led some readers to believe that members of the scientific staff of the Commission had suggested that "halibut had never been easier to catch than they are today." Actually, it was G. W. Nickerson and other members of the scientific staff who made the statement. The scientists emphasized that there was a tendency for the abundance of the fish to flatten out at this time. Out of fairness to the parties concerned, this explanation is made.

There'll Always Be A Scotland

The lines appeared in the Elgin Gazette, written by a 21-year-old wife of a farmhand, Mrs. William George. It is her version of a well-known song:

There'll always be a Scotland;
Losh me! I'm feared tae speak,
She's kept sae much in the back-ground,
It nearly gars me greet,
But I maun hae my word in
Tae keep her flag unfurled—
Her mighty deeds o' valor
That are ken't round a' the world.
