LATE LORD TWEEDSMUIR

Many Prince Rupert people will have pleasant remembrances of the visit to the city of the famous writer who! was Governor General of Canada. They will remember ing run at the Canadian Legion ris unassuming ways and his charming personality. That lady today has our sympathy in the loss of a wonder-! so far Neil Cameron has won ful husband.

Primarily Lord Tweedsmuir was a writer. As such from Hugh Smith; R. C. Mutch he is known to the world and was known long before he bebecame Governor General of Canada. By his books he George Dawes from John Bulger. will be remembered for many a day.

THE NEXT GOVERNOR

It will now become the duty of the Canadian Prime Minister to advise His Majesty the King who to appoint as meet Neil Cameron in the final. his representative in Canada following the death of Lord Tweedsmuir. We hope he will advise the appointment of Mr. Bennett or some other prominent Canadian. However, it is Mr. Mackenzie King's job to make the selection WRESTLING and, doubtless, he will satisfy some of the people in so do-

We may reneat here what we have pointed out on a and BOXING previous occasio.n. The Governor General does not represent the British government. He represents the King ? on purely Canadian matters. In other words he is the Empire representative. The man who really does the work as between the British government and the Canadian government is the British High Commissioner at Ottawa.

A MAGNIFICENT GESTURE

The landing of thirty thousand troops from Australia and New Zealand at a point near Suez, evidently for service in the Balkans or Syria or somewhere around that part of the world, was a magnificent gesture. It is an assurance to the people of the Balkan States that the British ! are prepared to back them if Germany or Russia or both together but on undue pressure. The huge allied army of over half a million men will be expected to defend the oil ? fields of Iran, the Suez waterway and other important $ features of the British Empire in that section of the world and also to protect the Balkans against any international bandits who may essay to add to their territory at the expense of their neighbors.

SPORT CHAT

The Ketchikan basketball club, in a wire received over the weekend, informed the locals that they will be here next Wednesday and Thursday night and that they will be carrying their strongest lineup. They realize that they are down fourteen points going into the third game of the series and that they have great odds to overcome on their visit here.

Ketchikan this year has a six team league in full swing all season and from this league they have picked an All-Star team to represent the First City. It is made up of stars in every division including the leading scorers on each team.
