TERRACE

There was a threat of serious fire at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brooks on Tuesday when smoke was seen issuing from the roof at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Many helpers were soon at the scene and with a chain of buckets the outbreak was extinguished without much delay but only just in time to save the building.

The village commissioners met at the municipal office on Wednesday to discuss routine business and to pass accounts. Some further extension to the water system was included in the agenda for discussion. The new commissioner, W. E. Smith, was sworn in to office and took his seat as a member of the village corporation.

After a brief cold snap, which however only sent the thermometer down to 15 above zero, the weather has again become mild. There was a fall of snow Wednesday night amounting to three inches.

It's the cumulative effect of advertising that counts.

AGENT IS WELCOMED

Visit of James Gillett to Port Essington at First of Week is Appreciated

PORT ESSINGTON, Jan. 12.—Indian Agent James Gillett visited Port Essington on Monday of this week, making the trip from Prince Rupert on the departmental cruiser Naskeena, and received a hearty welcome. A banquet and reception was held in his honor Monday night and on Tuesday he met the people of Port Essington at a general meeting when various matters of community interest were discussed. Certain explanations were made and the discussions proved satisfactory to all parties concerned. Delay in the reconstruction of the road and seawall, it was explained, had been due to lack of estimates from the previous year.

On arrival, Mr. Gillett was received by Edward Bolton and directed to the Caledonia Hotel where he lodged for the night. Later he proceeded to the Essington Band Hall where the reception banquet was held. President Mark Bolton delivered an address of welcome and Chief L. L. Starr spoke on behalf of the people. Other speakers were Matthew Wesley, president of the Essington Concert Band, and Rev. Mr. Rutherford. In reply, Mr. Gillett expressed appreciation for the welcome and assured all that he would do everything in his power for the betterment of the native people. There were selections by the band, conducted by David Spalding, including an overture dedicated to the guest of honor. A dance followed the banquet.

Mr. Gillett left at noon Tuesday on his return to Prince Rupert.

The most interesting and amusing feature of the evening was when the ladies paraded into the hall dressed up in all sorts of costumes. There was even a clown among them. All were wearing masks. They entertained their guests with dancing and singing. William Lawson, with his guitar, was also on hand to help out.

Mrs. Joseph Roberts, the honorary president, in a neat speech, welcomed the guests. A Rutherford, missionary and teacher, responded for the guests.

Close to midnight the ladies served refreshments.

Music for the dancing and games was provided by the "Essingtonians" under the direction of Howard Starr. Arthur W. Stewart was master of ceremonies. The party broke up at a late hour.
