CANADA GROWING TO FULL NATIONHOOD

At this season of the year it is not uncommon to see announcements that all the second cabin and steerage accommodation on vessels leaving British ports for Canada is booked months ahead, and that extra steamers are being chartered to accommodate those joining in the "rush," observes the Toronto Globe. Canada is enriched by the coming of the immigrants even if among them there are some who cannot adapt themselves to the conditions of the new world. We in Canada seldom look at the other side of the shield—the effect on the motherland of this tremendous drain of the most enterprising of her young people of both sexes.

Students of sociology on the other side of the Atlantic are beginning to count the cost. Mr. Chiozza Money in The Nineteenth Century directs attention to the fact that Britain is now losing about two-thirds of its natural increase of population by emigration, and points out that at the present rate of progress in each country Great Britain will have only 47,000,000 people in 1921, while Germany will have 74,000,000. Germany's emigration has been reduced to a minimum of a few thousand yearly.

while Britain sent out last year more emigrants than ever before. In the struggle for world's supremacy Germany may be depending more on the cradle than on the Dreadnought.

It is fortunate for the future of the British Empire that most of the motherland's emigrants go to British territory. Canada, Australasia, and South Africa all feel the increased vitality resulting from the movement, but it is Canada that benefits most. In 1914, for example, of a total British emigration of 262,000, Canada received 135,000, Australasia 66,000, and the United States 50,000, while 9,000 went to British possessions other than Canada and Australasia, and 2,000 to foreign countries other than the United States. Australia is now making a bid for population but it will be many years before she secures such a volume as Canada attracts. The Dominion now holds more white men than Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, and Newfoundland combined, and this proportion is likely to be maintained.

The little Isles in the North Atlantic nurtured by the Dominion and protected in its infancy. They still give it of their best blood freely in emigration. Let us not forget that as Canada grows apace to the stature of nationhood she must assume all its duties and obligations.

LOANS BY GOVT. TO THE SETTLERS

Suggestion Made by B. C. Realty Men to the Provincial Government for Prosperous Peopling of British Columbia.

A deputation of British Columbia real estate men recently deputized the provincial government requesting them to borrow money wholesale and loan it out to settlers for the purpose of taking up and clearing land and otherwise improving it. The experience of Denmark and Australia in the matter of loan-money to settlers on easy terms was impressed upon the government, and also the experience of Great Britain in advancing the money for the purchase of their holdings by the Irish peasantry, in which case there had never yet been an instance of failure to repay the loan, principal and interest, to the government as it became due. Such a scheme, says the Monetary Times, would probably work well in Northern Ontario, but the parties interested would have to be the government and the settlers, without the assistance of real estate dealers.

G. T. P. TELEGRAPHS

Wide Range of Wiring Facilities Extended This Year.

At the close of the construction season of the present year the Grand Trunk Pacific and its ally, the National Transcontinental, will be in a position to carry telegraphic despatches from 150 miles west of Yellowhead Pass to Cochrane, a point 900 miles east of Winnipeg, a distance of 1,975 miles, over its own lines. Besides this the Grand Trunk Pacific will build over 700 miles of telegraphic lines on branch lines and from the Prince Rupert end of the Grand Trunk Pacific a total of 830 miles in all.

INDIANS AS FIRE WARDENS

Suggestion for Provincial Government—How About Votes?

Archdeacon R. J. Renison, in charge of the Church of England mission at Moose Factory, advocates the employment of the Indians as forest rangers. Familiar with all the sounds of the forest and the mysteries of the north, the Indian makes an ideal forester. By employing him as fire ranger, game warden and advance agent to prepare for the tourist and settler, they would be using him in his natural environment. He guaranteed that in such conditions the Indian would do ten times more work than the white man, but he did not say anything about his vote compelling powers.

LAND TO FEED THE G. T. P. LINE

Valuable Farming Tract Along Stewart River and Around Stewart Lake Tapped by National Transcontinental.

Mr. A. C. Murray, chief factor of the Hudson's Bay Company's post at Fort St. James, 100 miles northwest of Fort George, declares there is a splendid agricultural country along the Stewart River and around Stewart Lake, on which Fort St. James is located. Nearly a score of pre-emptors have taken up land there. The best potatoes grow there, and the yields of hay, barley and oats is very prolific. Vegetables grow to perfection and small fruits are in abundance. The soil is well adapted for mixed farming. This land is tributary to the Grand Trunk Pacific and such reports as these give an idea of what the northern interior is capable of producing. The only thing regrettable is that speculators should have got hold of such large areas of the best land.

Once there was a little girl,
And she had a little curl
That hung right in the middle of her forehead.
And when she was good
She was very good;
And when she was bad she was more companionable.

MAJOR SNYDER TO RETIRE FROM YUKON POLICE FORCE

HAS SEEN TWENTY-SEVEN YEARS OF SERVICE IN ROYAL NORTHWEST MOUNTED POLICE, TEN OF WHICH HAVE BEEN SPENT IN YUKON.

After twenty-seven years of service in the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, Major Snyder, one of the best known officers of this famous force of guardians of the frontier of Canada's west which during the past forty years has shifted from old Fort Garry on the Red River to the Arctic Ocean, will retire on April 15th. He will take up his residence in Vancouver.

Major Snyder has seen the frontier drift westward and northward from Regina to Herschel Island in the Arctic Ocean near the mouth of the Mackenzie River, famous as the winter rendezvous of the Arctic whaling fleet. He has ever been in the vanguard of the pioneer trek and many a sound of the Klondike rush has reason to remember him, some with gratitude because of favors and protection of life and property when Miles City was at the zenith of its prosperity and Miles Canyon the funnel to the graveyard below White Horse Rapids in the days before the steel of the White Pass & Yukon Railway had straddled White Pass; others—their number by no means few—knew him as the vigilant head of the far-reaching force which cut short their criminal careers in the land where crime seldom went unpunished despite the fact that police stations were scarcer than grub stakes.

The Champion Marrying Man.

A marriageable young woman may find it to her advantage to know that between the ages of 21 and 25 a widower is just about 50 per cent. more valuable as a marriageable proposition than a bachelor of the same age. Between the ages of 25 and 35 his value increases 10 per cent. more, while between 35 and 45 one widower is equal to three bachelors of the same age. Between 45 and 55 he is worth approximately five bachelors. The widower between 25 and 35 is the greatest marrying man on earth.

From Profits—or Losses?

WE all advertise.

A man advertises his character by his deeds, his wisdom by his words or by his silence. A merchant's store, stock, and windows speak either well or ill of his business.

So when a man says "No, I do not advertise," he knows not what he says. What he really means is that he does not publish printed advertisements.

Some proclaim this as though it were a virtue—yet spend much effort and invest much money in advertising their business through mediums other than the printed word.

They may make their wares fit for a king—yet hesitate to introduce them to Brown or Smith.

This is inconsistency.

The truth is, printed advertising is a vital force in every business, just as is the "silent" advertising of a product's quality or a merchant's service.

When you employ the Printed Word as your solicitor in the Court of Public Opinion, you build good will for your product or service—a good will that results in profit.

If unrepresented at this Court, your interests are as unprotected as though, when involved in a law suit, you failed to "enter an appearance" and the case is decided against you—by default.

So it is clear you pay for advertising—one way or the other. If you pay it wages, it will work for you.

If you refuse its offers of service, it will work against you, in just the measure of its employment by your Competitors.

So you are paying for advertising either out of your profits or by your losses.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any good advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lumsden Building. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.
