children's Christmas tree party in the afternoon and a concert and dance in the evening, the local Sons of Norway fittingly celebrated Christmas on Friday to the enjoyment of all-young and old alike.

There were about seventy children at the afternoon party. With Ole Skog functioning in the role of Santa Claus, gifts and candies were distributed from a large and gaily decorated tree around which there had been the traditional marching.

The early part of the evening was occupied by an acceptable concert with John Storseth as chairman. Rev. J. H.
