BRITISH BUY LARGE TRACTS NEAR HAZELTON

Duke of Sutherland, Lord Charles Beresford, Lord Desborough and Others Acquire Large Areas Along the Railway

Vancouver, April 24—Entrusted with the commission of selecting large tracts of land in British Columbia for prominent British land owners, Captain C. E. Hutton of London, England, reached Vancouver last night and is a guest at the Hotel Vancouver. The visitor is a former resident of the Okanagan Valley. He was a member of the Duke of Sutherland's party which visited British Columbia last summer and which also included Lord Desborough and Lord Charles Beresford. Largely owing to his representations the Duke of Sutherland acquired large areas of farm lands in the Fort George district on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. The Duke, it is understood, will visit this province shortly in connection with plans for a colonization project involving the settlement of his farm tenants on these lands. His visit is expected to be a short one, to be followed by a second visit in August.

The example set by the Scottish peer so impressed other titled land owners that they requested Captain Hutton to act on their behalf. Several of these clients will shortly reach here to close the deals he has come to arrange. "The investment of large sums of British capital will mean a great deal in the way of development of the agricultural resources of this province as several of my clients purpose using the land for colonization purposes," said Captain Hutton today to a representative of the Province. "This will mean the sending out of carefully selected people, many direct from the farms of their landlords. Apart from the favorable attitude of last year's visitors the taxation measures of Right Hon. Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, is contributing largely to the movement of the capital of landed proprietors abroad for investment purposes. Looking around they realize that British Columbia offers better and safer inducements than any other portion of the globe. There is no question that among this class British Columbia is regarded more favorably than any province of the Dominion."

Among the prominent Britishers for whom Captain Hutton has made investments are Captain Geoffrey Bowly, adjutant of the Royal Horse Guards, and Sir Reginald Macleod. The former owns 2,400 acres in the Nechacho Valley, which he intends to visit next year. Sir Reginald has purchased 1,500 acres near Quesnel. Another titled investor is Viscount Castlereigh, M. P., heir of the Marquis of Londonderry. His holdings comprise 1,500 acres in the Fort George district; also Mr. Alexander Simpson, private secretary to the Duke of Sutherland. Mr. Simpson is the owner of 4,000 acres of land equally divided between the Fort George and Hazelton districts.
