"WHAT'S BRED IN THE BONE"

As might have been expected, the ruling passion prevails and the Mayor in his paper descends again to absolutely groundless and uncalled for personalities in his so-called defense of his council. He attacks a citizen whose name never entered into the discussion at which the City Council was described as helpless. He descends still further. He attacks with raud. He indulges in the ugliest of slanders. He jeers at his fellow citizen's religion. He drags the most sacred name ever penned into the meanest editorial ever written.

No more need be said. The citizens know well what manner of man the Mayor is. They do not require even to read his latest editorial to know what is the nature of his slanderous and absolutely unfounded attack. They have experience of him and of his methods. They realize today very fully that not even the high office of mayor can imbue with dignity a man whose whole appeal, defense and attack consists in the coarsest of personal slander, ill-bred derision and libelous misrepresentation.

The Daily News need say nothing in defense of Mr. Alex. Manson, the citizen personally attacked by the Editor-Mayor last night. Only the fact that Mr. Alex. Manson had absolutely nothing whatever to do with the editorial in these columns which awoke the Mayor's spiteful spleen may as well be made known. Mr. Alex. Manson is a private citizen. He has the respect of his fellow citizens, and can retain it with dignity on his own merits. But the Mayor has neither dignity nor merit in this latest mean, petty and vituperative attack. He is answered best in the words of his own editorial:

"Honest criticism always makes for a bettering of civic conditions, but this jealous, mean, selfish and untrue harping not only recoils upon the small souls who inspire it, but does the city an immense amount of harm."

Out of his own mind and with his own pen let him be condemned.

GRANBY MINES MAKE GOOD IN MANNER BEYOND BELIEF

NEARLY TWO MILLION POUNDS OF COPPER PER MONTH BEING PRODUCED AND SMELTED—EARNINGS $100,000 PER MONTH AND MUCH MORE IN SIGHT.

The Granby Mine is producing at the present time at its smelter in Grand Forks about 1,800,000 pounds of copper per month at a cost of fractionally over 10½ cents per pound. This relatively high copper cost is due to the comparatively low grade ores treated, as the mining and smelting cost per ton of ore is only about $2, a figure which can be equalled by few, if any, of the other large copper producers.

On 16 cent copper, Granby is showing earnings of only a little under $1,000,000 per month, or almost $8 per share on 150,000 shares of outstanding stock. These earnings, of course, disregard entirely the newly acquired, but fully paid for, Hidden Creek property, which was purchased about a year ago, and which is opening up far better than the new owners anticipated.

The expectation of management is that within the next two years, when the Hidden Creek mine is producing between 25-

000,000 and 30,000,000 pounds of copper ore per annum, Granby's total output will be brought up to 50,000,000 pounds at a cost of not over 8½ cents per pound. The Hidden Creek property was purchased on the basis of 2 per cent. ore, but in addition to the very large tonnage of this 2 per cent. ore, between 350,000 and 400,000 tons of 5 per cent. ore has been discovered, the net profits from which should more than meet the cost of the new $2,000,000 smelter for this property, the erection of which will be commenced next month, the site already having been graded and put in shape for the new works.

The directors at a meeting in New York early in May will go over the whole Granby situation carefully and decide whether it will be the better policy to defray the cost of the new smelter from current earnings or to do some financing through an issue of securities.

RESCUED BY MISS M. HAYS

Waifs from the Titanic Who Seem to Have Lost All Relatives are Being Taken Care Of at New York.

New York, April 27.—No one has yet appeared who could identify the two children saved from the Titanic by Miss Margaret Hays, but R. L. Neill, New York agent for the Children Aid Society, is reasonably sure their father was Mr. Hoffman, who lost his life in the disaster. In the passenger list there appears among the second cabin passengers the entry: "Mr. Hoffman and two children." The boys speak French and are evidently of foreign birth.

Mr. Neill recalled the story of some of the rescued passengers that in the midst of the excitement a man ran up to one of the lifeboats and started to lift the two children into it. He was warned that there was no room for him, and he replied that he did not want to go, but begged that the children be taken along. This man was Mr. Hoffman, Mr. Neill believes. The children, whose names are Lota and Louis, are still at the home of Frank K. Hays. They seem to be not the least bit homesick.

Suggestion That Revenue Cutters Patrol Sea Where Titanic Sunk.

Washington, April 25.—Acting upon information that the bodies of several of the victims of the Titanic disaster had been picked up near the scene of the catastrophe, Senator Martineau of New Jersey today introduced a resolution requesting the President to send to the place several revenue cutters and to keep them there at least a month in the hope of finding other bodies. The resolution was referred to the committee on commerce.

WALLED - IN - AMUNDSEN

First Divisional Point on the Grand Trunk Pacific East of Prince Rupert

The first freight divisional point of the Grand Trunk Pacific east from Prince Rupert is remarkably well situated. The railroad follows the river very closely for almost the entire distance to Hazelton, and there is no considerable area at any point for a town or a city.

At Mile 118, or, as it is now officially known and registered, AMUNDSEN, the railway has located its first Divisional Point, and the reason is that here is the best location and the most suitable site. But even here the mountains and the river hem the site in so rigidly that there will be only about 150 lots for the entire population, apart from the necessary grounds for shops, yards and sidings. The property owned by the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway at this point, which was formerly known as Anderson's Island, has been cleared and is ready for the construction of yards and the company's other works.

Right from the start AMUNDSEN should be a busy town, for many men are required for construction work. The heavy traffic on the line will likewise cause a big force of railway men to locate here permanently as their headquarters. With this to build on, AMUNDSEN seems certain to be the most important town between Prince Rupert and Hazelton.

AMUNDSEN WILL BE SOLD AT AUCTION in Prince Rupert about May 15, the exact date and place to be announced later.

Real estate at AMUNDSEN is a monopoly—just as a telephone or electric light franchise. The town cannot spread out any more than an ancient walled city, and not so much, because the walls of AMUNDSEN are mountains on three sides and the river on the fourth side.

Think of it—only 150 lots for all the people of an active young city. No subdivisions. No annexes or additions to come afterward. You can buy some of these lots at your own price at public auction about May 15.

The Continental Trust Company, Ltd., has concluded arrangements with the Royal Bank of Canada to act as Escrow Agents, and the latter will deliver Indefeasible Title to lots in Amundsen.

Instructed by Chas. W. D. Clifford and associates we shall offer at auction lots in the registered townsite of Amundsen. Blue prints and detailed information can be obtained from the exclusive selling agents.
