COMEDY IS ROMANTIC

"The Flame of New Orleans" Is Interesting Picture at Capitol Theatre This Mid-Week.

Starring Marlene Dietrich and Bruce Cabot, "The Flame of New Orleans," gay comedy romance, is the feature picture for Wednesday and Thursday of this week at the Capitol Theatre.

Miss Dietrich plays the part of a continental actress who goes to the town of New Orleans in the colonial days and beglamors the town's wealthiest bachelor, the part of which is taken by Roland Young, by impersonating a cloistered European noblewoman. However, a handsome roughneck river skipper, played by Bruce Cabot, takes her eye and thereafter her struggle is between the wealth and security offered by one man and the hazardous romance offered by the other. Complications ensue when she accidentally discloses her real earthy character to Young and she is forced to subterfuge to explain it off. Adventure follows adventure as the plot moves rapidly in entertaining fashion to an intriguing climax.

The cast also includes Laura Hope Crews, Mischa Auer, Andy Devine and other cinema notables.

one of their dances for the troops in their hut on Monday evening, about 250 being present. Music was provided by the Canadian Scottish orchestra. Refreshments were provided and served by the ladies of the parish, and a most enjoyable time was spent.

at the home of the former in aid of the Oddfellows' and Centennial tily decorated with fall flowers.

The guests were received by Mrs.
A. Barbe and those serving were Mrs. J. S. Irvine and Mrs. D. V.

Several of these teas have been bile canteens, three of which have already been sent overseas.
