RED CROSS News Notes

LOSS OF ARM NO HANDICAP

Mrs. Clark of Terrace, who lost her right arm at the shoulder in an accident many years ago, is an ardent Red Cross worker. She cut and pieced a quilt top of four-inch squares, sewed it together by machine and donated it to the Red Cross branch. The members completed it and it is now on its way to England. She also donated a live goose which realized $11 for the branch.

GIVE MOBILE KITCHEN

When the urgent appeal for mobile kitchens came from the British Red Cross, the British Columbia Junior Red Cross members were the first in the province to answer it. They immediately pledged the cost of one—$100—to be paid from their soldiers' fund.

INCREASE FOOD PARCELS

The parcels of food for British prisoners of war in Germany, which the Canadian Red Cross is shipping overseas, will soon be increased from 10,000 a week to 20,000 on request of the British Red Cross. To accomplish this the Red Cross in Montreal is preparing to pack 10,000 parcels a week to keep pace with Toronto's figure.

HONOR JACK CHERRY
Editor, Daily News:
Below are a few lines and an appropriate suggestion from Carl Reif, a friend of ours, now studying medicine in Kingston, concerning the remembrance of our recently deceased and mutual friend Jack Cherry:
"I think that those Mount Oldfield skiers and hikers whom such a suggestion would affect and even those who are not acquainted with Mount Oldfield itself would be willing to remember our friend as an enthusiast of out-door life by naming those flats west of the present known ski grounds, extending past our cabin for about a mile and a half, 'Cherry's Flats.' We are submitting this suggestion because we think that it will be well received and agreed to by all whom it will affect."

High School Holds Dance

The Oddfellows' Hall was the scene of a happy party last night. The occasion being another dance by the students of Booth Memorial High School, some one hundred or so young folks being in attendance.

The hall was attractively decorated in green and yellow crepe paper. Commencing with a Grand March, dancing was in full swing from 8 p.m. until shortly after midnight. Music was by Mrs. DeCarlo's Orchestra and John Good was master of ceremonies. Miss Frances Watts was in charge of the kitchen and Pete Peterson presided at the door. Principal and Mrs. W. W. C. O'Neill were patrons of the affair.
