WORK FOR RED CROSS

Canadian Legion Women's Auxiliary to Open Room—Other Business at Meeting Last Night

The Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, at its regular monthly meeting last night with the president, Mrs. William Rothwell, in the chair over a large attendance of members, decided to organize a Red Cross workroom of its own to sew garments for the forces and refugees. It is planned that the Legion ladies shall meet three times a week for this purpose.

The Auxiliary also decided to make a donation to the Canadian Legion ambulance fund. A tea and bridge evening will be held towards that end.

Plans were advanced for the annual Canadian Legion Women's Auxiliary banquet on March 15.
