COMEDY IS SPRIGHTLY

Ronald Colman Stars in Gay Film, "My Life With Caroline," Showing at Capitol.

Hailed as one of the brightest comedies of the year, "My Life with Caroline," starring the popular Ronald Colman, shows this Wednesday and Thursday as the Christmas feature at the Capitol Theatre. The story revolves around the casual romances of a neglected wife and the ingenious strategy by which her husband thwarts her intended elopements and holds his home together.

Anna Lee, lovely and vivacious British star, heads the feature cast as the wife with Charles Winninger as her self-indulgent father and Reginald Gardiner and Gilbert Roland as two of her admirers.

Because of the pressure of business, the husband cannot spend as much time as he would like with his wife. She, living at various resorts with her father, finds herself in love with handsome young millionaires who have no trouble in convincing her that she is unappreciated. She is planning divorce when the husband arrives on the scene. He adroitly brings his wife to see the light and there is a happy reconciliation.

The gay comedy is played against a glittering background of luxurious resorts and millionaires' homes.

Timely to the present war situation is the "Canada Carries On" series instalment, "War Clouds in the Pacific," showing on the same bill. It deals with Japan, her war with China, her powerful navy and turns to Anglo-American preparations to combat the Nipponese menace. Hong Kong, Singapore, Manila, Hawaii, Guam, Wake Island, the Alaskan bases and the coastal defences of British Columbia are shown.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Collison and daughter, Miss Muriel Collison, will be leaving the city in January for Kerrisdale, Vancouver Island, to take up future residence. Their daughter, Miss Joyce Collison, R.N., will be leaving towards the end of this week for Vancouver to join the staff of Shaughnessy Military Hospital. Capt. and Mrs. R. M. Yerburgh are taking the Collison house on Sixth Avenue at Hays Creek.
