Highlight of the Tournament - - -

What is described as a highlight of the opening day in the annual senior golf tournament at Vancouver recently was the failure of Hon. John Hart, minister of finance, to qualify in the opening rounds. That was too bad. If the minister finds he is failing in his golf, pretty soon he may find it difficult to count the money we pay the government as taxes. For several years he has been able to take all comers and beat them all, even though some of the biggest firms in the province were represented. Now a couple of men from Seattle were able to do better counting than the Victoria finance minister.

And yet we are told that Hon. John is likely to survive the coming election and, instead of trying how small a score he can make, will win the next game by beating the field with the largest score. Possibly we will have to put on a few extra tallymen to count his score in October.

Coldwell Expected - - -

M. J. Coldwell, leader of the C.C.F., is expected to visit British Columbia and campaign for the party a few weeks prior to the provincial election. We hope he comes to Prince Rupert. We have great respect for Mr. Coldwell and, while we may not always agree with his views on public questions, he seems to be a fairly sane leader.

Think City Beautiful - - -

A number of recent visitors from various parts of the world have been expressing the opinion thaa Prince Rupert is a beautiful city. It is beautiful in spite of its imperfections. It has a splendid setting and might be even better if all residents co-operated to improve it. Gardens, boulevards, and lawns might be made to fit in with the surroundings and better kept. All that is needed is for each to take a keen interest in his own and his near neighbor's frontage.

Registration Has British Women Hot And Bothered But They're Getting Around It

By GLADYS ARNOLD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Aug. 18: (CP)—A woman is as old as she looks and not the age indicated in her birth certificate. This is the theory stoutly maintained by English and Scottish women today from whom registration in age groups for war service has drawn a barrage of criticism.

"There's panic in our hearts this summer and it is not bombs that have fallen nor yet those we know must fall which causes it," writes a woman columnist of the Glasgow Herald. "We can face less lipstick and make-up, we are getting used to having the beauty of our legs marred by stockings which gather in folds around our ankles. We are even getting used to our boy friends deserting us for the greater attractions of His Majesty's forces—but something must be done about this registration business."

Letters are bombarding the editors of London papers. Protests are being registered throughout the voluntary organizations.

"This is no fantastic idea," writes the London correspondent. "It is the main topic of conversation wherever women meet. The subject can last through the whole fire-watching period or nights at a warden's post. It last through the lunch hour and takes up our week-end rest period."

Maintaining that registration may be all very well for the "sweet young things from 1 to 25" or even sweeter things of 25 to 36, it's not so pleasant for those at 40.

"We think, and rightly so, that we do not look our age," protests one woman writer. "We are not really ashamed of it but when we have kept it a dark secret so long at our jobs, it is going to be annoying to have years of work spoiled by being obliged to register in our right age group."

A number of methods have been published as useful in "dodging" the issue. One for a person, say of 31, is to ask for time off on the 25's day, make a big fuss and then go very quietly in on the true age day. Some one, it is warned, is sure to spot you on your own 31 day.

Another is to pretend you've never heard of registering. This however, is inclined to make the Bright Young Things assume one is years older than the correct age. "So you are sunk both ways," the columnist writes.

By the end of the summer, it is suggested, the guarantee of antiquity will not be "She remembers the last war" but, "she must be well over 30—she hasn't registered yet!"

Another writer suggests the remedy might to have all women between 25 and 40 register indiscriminately on the same selected days. One doesn't mind admitting to being over 25, she says. "It's just how much over that damages our morale."

If you want something, advertise for it. Hundreds of people get what they want that way. (tf)

DRY DOCK SWAMPED

Lost 10 to 1 to Commodores in Baseball on Sunday

On Sunday the Canadian Scottish baseball team won over the Search lights by a score of 5 to 1. It was from the fans' point of view one of the prettiest games ever seen at Acropolis. The end of the second inning saw the score tied without score but Thomas romped home in the beginning of the third to score for the Scottish. Then Cann brought home the second in the fourth inning, making it 2 to 0 for the Scotties. Hayter of the Searchlights brought in their only run in the fifth but the Scottish went all out to bring Beliski, Thomas and MacMillan home. The last two innings were scoreless. Both teams played good ball but the Searchlights had luck against them.

The second game was disastrous. The Commodores played marvellous ball with the whole team digging in and doing its part. It seemed no matter where the ball went there was a Commodore calmly waiting when it got there. The Dry Dock lacked the spark of the usual game but, perhaps on Wednesday night when they play the Searchlights, they'll be in there hiting again.

Batteries were:

For Scottish—Cann and Baillie.

For Searchlights—O'Neill and Alford.

For Commodores—Randall and Downey.

For Dry Dock— Bickerton and Beruski.

Umpires were Thorndyke and Bickerton and Al Shipp of the Y. M.C.A. kept score.

The league standing to date:

Dry Dock	3	1	.750
Scottish	3	2	.600
Commodores	2	2	.500
Searchlights	0	3	.000

STRUCK THE "SARGE"

CAPE TOWN, Aug. 18: (CP)— For striking the sergeant who caught him sleeping on guard a private of the Essential Services Protection Corps (home guard) was sentenced to one month's imprisonment. He got 14 days for sleeping on duty.

BAGGED FOUR LIONS

N'DOLA, Rhodesia, Aug. 18: (CP)—The Royal Air Force isn't doing all the bagging. Motoring at night near the Congo border two business men were confronted by six lions and shot four of them.

MAIZE FOR RICE

PRETORIA, Aug. 18: (CP)—Increased wartime use of maize (Indian corn) in South Africa is replacing rice to some extent and imports of the latter decreased from 175,000,000 pounds in 1939 to 123,000,000 in 1940.

AIR FORCE WINS AGAIN

Defeated Armentierres 11 to 7 In Softball Game

In Saturday's softball game at the Gyro Park the Air Force team again led the way to Armentierres' winning by a score of 11 to 7.

Both teams started off well and at the end of the third the score was 1 to 0 in favor of the Air Force. Then the boys from Seal Cove got into their stride and ran in seven runs in the fourth while the sailors were still held scoreless.

The Armentierres made a strong bid for the game in the last two innings, bringing in five in the sixth and two in the seventh, but they got started too late and the Air Force chalked up another win.

Batteries:

Air Force—Wemp and Brownie.

Armentierres—Burt and Hall.

Gawley and Cropper were umpires and Al Shipp of the "Y," kept score.

LONDON, Aug. 18: (CP)—Twenty-five per cent of the bread used by the army is made from the new national wholemeal flour.

SMUGGLER'S PRIVILEGE

DUBLIN, Aug. 18: (CP)—A Dublin grocer pleaded that tea sold to an unregistered customer was outside the scope of rationing regulations because it had been smuggled into the country. Despite the ingenious defence, the grocer was fined $225.

NEW RANGE IS OPENED

C. N. R. A. Rifle Butts On Park Avenue Started

With ideal weather conditions prevailing, the opening shoot at the new Canadian National Recreation Association outdoor small bore rifle range on Park Avenue was held on Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. William Brass, first lady member of the Rifle Club, officially opened the ranges with the first shot at 100 yards, followed by Mrs. Harry Monkley with the first shot at 50 yards.

The new ranges were constructed entirely by the members under direction of W. Brass, chairman, and represent a lot of hard work which the results amply justify.

The club now has one of the most up-to-date ranges in the province.

Some twenty persons, visitors and members, were present and all tried out the shooting facilities, pronouncing them very satisfactory, despite tricky winds and mirage ect. and some very good scores were turned in by novices at the game.

The chairman, assisted by Theo. Fortune and members of the club, was in charge.
