SMITHERS PREPARES

Considers Steps To Be Taken Under New War Conditions

SMITHERS, Dec. 10:-The newly developed war situation had an immediate effect on the interest in Civilian Protection work in this town, an emergency meeting being held here Monday evening to consider the probable or possible developments. The meeting was called with less than twelve hours notice and eighty people were present where hitherto it was difficult to get a turnout of more than ten or twelve.

Many points pertaining to the were discussed thoroughly, one of ORE FROM the whief points being the accomodation that might be required for housing and feeding evacuees from Prince Rupert in the event that it might become necessary to evacuate women and children from the coast city.

A canvass of the town is to be made today to ascertain how many could probably be handled in such a situation.

Arrangements were also made for first aid posts and also posts where air raid wardens could be found, all the officials for these posts having been arranged some

Black-out precautions and signals were also discussed at some

First aid lectures have been going on here for several months and it is felt that the town will now be well equipped for first aid helpers if the necessity should arise to call on these men.

Interest in all these matters was at a high pitch and there was a feeling that everyone was wishing to do everything possible in the event of any possible emergency.

Two Men Who Have Been Operating At Alice Arm Close Down For Time-Treatment At Local Plant

Horace Tyler and R. B. James, who have been high grading for scheelite from the old Esperanza mine at Alice Arm for the past three months, were passengers aboard the Catala yesterday afternoon going through to Victoria to spend the Christmas and New Year holiday season. Snow at the mine, which has been falling for the past two weeks and has now reached a depth of four feet, was partially responsible for closing

Tyler and James brought in with them three tons of silver gold ore which was unloaded for the local ore sampling plant for treatment. Previously they had sent in an-

Canyon City On Naas River Loses A Leading Man

Canyon City on the Naas River has lost one of its most progressive leaders in the death of Chief Henry Azak Gwikmaou who died early on the morning of December

In the year 1918, the flood destroyed their village of Underleaf. Under his leadership his people returned to their former home on the banks of the canyon overlooking the famous lava beds.

In 1927 through his influence a Salvation Army mission was established for his people.

Further progress was made in 1940 when he made plans for the This is one place where the Smith erection of a sawmill.
