U. S. CURRENCY REMODELED

New Coins Proposed to Congress by Representative from Ohio in Bill Which Has Approval of House Coinage Committee.

Washington, May 10.—If a bill introduced by Congressman Bulkley of Cleveland and which has the approval of a subcommittee on coinage, weights and measures of the House of Representatives, becomes a law two new pieces will be added to the coins of the United States. One of them will be a 3-cent piece.

There has been more or less agitation for years in favor of a 2½-cent piece, and also appeals for a ½-cent piece. The former has been urged on the ground that it would be a convenience to have a coin between the nickel and the penny, and also because the old time "bit," or 12½ cents, and its multiples still occupies a conspicuous place in retail price quotations. The advocates of a half cent, on the other hand, argue that this piece will serve all of the uses of a 2½ cent, and also furnish a smaller unit than the penny for numerous transactions. It is urged by the author of the bill that both the 3 cent and ½ cent will result in lowering the prices of many articles bought by the masses, the prices of which are fixed by custom and convenience at 5 cents and one cent, and furnish the means of making exact change where now the odd cents or odd half cent are added to the nominal price.

The Treasury department has been inclined in the past to oppose any increase in the number of denomination, because of the difficulty in readily distinguishing them from each other. Mr. Bulkley has met the objections by proposing to have the 3-cent piece perforated in the middle, like the Chinese cash and some of the Belgian coins. He has included in his bill a provision changing the bronze cent to the nickel alloy used in the 5-cent piece. This is a change which everybody is likely to approve. A white cent will be a brighter, cleaner coin than the old copper piece.

Few people know what a handsome revenue the government derives from the seigniorage upon its small coinage. During the last fiscal year the declared seigniorage formally turned into the treasury from the coinage of 1 and 5 cent pieces was $3,246,384.63, and upon the subsidiary silver coins $1,912,309.23; total seigniorage, $5,167,684.86. The mint is a great and very profitable business institution.

TIGER KILLED BY BULLDOG

Fight in Cave and Dog Comes Out the Victor.

Uitenhage, South Africa, May 13.—A bulldog killed a tiger in a fight near here a few days ago.

The tiger had taken refuge in a cave on a farm at the foot of Winterhoek Mountain in Cape Colony. A bulldog was secured and it at once rushed into the cave. A desperate struggle ensued. The dog was badly wounded by the tiger's claws, but it caught the tiger by the throat and did not let go until both rolled over as if dead.

In a few minutes the dog came round, but the tiger, which measured eight and a half feet, was found to be dead.

Who is Your Customer?

HAVE you ever met your real customer? Have you salesmen a speaking acquaintance with him? Have you told him about the merits of your product? Have you explained why he should give your goods the preference? Have you done anything to stimulate his desire for your goods?

In short, have you made any attempt whatever to sell your goods to him?

"Most assuredly," you say. "Every dealer in Canada is known to our travelers, and we certainly wouldn't pay a salesman who couldn't tell our customers all—"

One minute, please. The dealer isn't your customer. He's simply a part of your sales organization, and a decidedly independent part of it at that. He is distributor for other concerns in whose goods he is just as much interested as he is in yours. And he isn't particularly interested in your product, any more than in your competitors'.

The dealer realizes that he can serve six who order their goods by a well-known trade name as quickly as he can serve one to whom he has to demonstrate that a product is good.

Your real customer is the Public—the Public who wears your clothing, eats your pickles, uses your safety razor. You've got to sell your goods to the Public.

What is it going to be worth to the piano-action maker who first discovers that his real customer is the Public, and not the piano manufacturer who incorporates the action into the complete instrument?

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or through the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lumsden Bldg., Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.
