Presbyterian Tea Success

Affair Held Last Thursday Afternoon at Home of Mrs. J. B. MacKay, Sixth Avenue East

Quite successful was a tea and sale of home cooking held Thursday afternoon last at the home of Mrs. J. B. MacKay, Sixth Avenue East, by the Ladies' Aid of First Presbyterian Church. A good-sized turn-out of ladies, calling to lend patronage to the affair, was received by Mrs. D. C. Stuart, president of the Ladies' Aid, and Mrs. MacKay. The rooms were tastefully adorned with lilacs, tulips and narcissi.

Mrs. Harry Calderwood, Mrs. James Baldwin and Mrs. J. M. Walker were in charge of the tea room, Mrs. William Reid, Mrs. J. C. Ely, Mrs. J. M. Simpson and Mrs. J. A. Teng poured and servitheuri were Mrs. Kenwood Green, Mrs. Martin Erickson and Miss Dorothy O'Neill. Cashier was Mrs. W. D. Christiano.

Mrs. T. A. McMeekin and Mrs. Robert Parker were in charge of the home-cooking table.

Sixth Column Is Advocated

Rev. Alexander Esler Points to Importance of Prayer Hope and Fellowship

Inspired by a Toronto pastor who had spoken along this line, Rev. Dr. Alexander Esler, preaching at First Presbyterian Church here yesterday morning, advocated the formation of a "sixth column" in Prince Rupert and all other places in Canada, in the battle against the influences that would set up the tyranny and persecution of a Hitler regime. The one effective means of combatting Nazism and its "fifth column" was the "Sixth column" of prayer, hope and fellowship. This was not to be under-estimated as a powerful influence.

Suzanne Would Have Held Top

Bill Tilden Thinks French Tennis Player Would Have Beaten Alice Marble

NEW YORK, May 26: (CP)—After several months of barnstorming with Budge, Marble and Hardwick, "Tall Willyum" Tilden is prepared to give expert opinion about the all-time ranking of La Marble, Suzanne Lenglen and Helen Wills Moody Roark.

Tilden has played with and against Alice Marble in doubles and has watched her nightly duels with Mary Hardwick.

Here's his rating: 1. Suzanne. 2. Alice. 3. Helen.

"Great players, all of them," he said. "But I think that, at her best, Alice would have beaten Helen and the late Suzanne would have beaten Alice.

"Suzanne would have beaten Alice because she wouldn't have permitted her to go to the net."
