FORCES ARE HEARD FROM

A feature of the monthly meeting of the Prince Rupert branch of the Canadian Legion last evening was the reading of letters from members of the Canadian forces overseas and in South American waters. These letters expressed the thanks of the writers for cigarettes and comforts sent by the local branch. They also were very loud in their praises of the weekly concerts put on in the camps under the auspices of the Canadian Legion War Services Incorporated These evidently supply a real want. Another interesting item was the record of the number of men in the various units in this area who are taking advantage of the educational courses supplied by correspondence under the Canadian Legion War Services. The great variety of courses and the large number of men taking them indicate that here too the Legion is filling a real need. The local branch of the Legion is endorsing fully the local drive to raise funds for the six national organizations which are already supelplying welfare and auxiliary services to the troops both here and overseas. The fullest support of the members and their resources is pledged to make the drive the success it merits.

Replies from Olof Hanson M.P. and the Provincial Command acknowledged receipt of the branch's memorandum on employment and the need for full governmental handling of agencies dealing with the supply of labor.

To welcome the 1st Battalion, Rocky Mountain Rangers, to the city the veterans will arrange a smoking concert for Friday week.

James Stewart and Rosalind Russell Here in "No Time for Comedy"

"No Time for Comedy," hailed as one of the best laugh hits which has been presented on the screen for some time, comes as the feature offering to the Capital Theatre here tonight and Friday. James Stewart and Rosalind Russell are co-starred.

"No Time for Comedy" is the hilarious story of what happens to a playwright famous for his comedies when he falls under the influence of a blonde who specializes in inspiring artists to give the world a message. Among the things that happen are a rousing fight between the playwright's wife and the blonde, a near romance between the playwright's discarded wife and the plonde's discarded husband and a flop that turns out to be a great success.

James Stewart is an engaging scamp as the errant writer, Rosalind Russell is his knowing wife, Genevieve Tobin, the blonde menace, and Charlie Ruggles, her millionaire husband. Others in the Cast are Allen Joslyn, Clarence Married At Kolb and the always popular Louise Beavers. "No Time for Comedy" has all Burns Lake the ingredients of good comedy fare, it is said.
