The Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League
THE LEGION'S CALL for TOTAL WAR

Presented to the Prime Minister of Canada by the Dominion Executive Council, The Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League, Ottawa, October 21, 1941.

The Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, P.C., C.M.G., M.A., M.P., Prime Minister of Canada.

OTTAWA.

Dear Mr. Prime Minister:—

1. In this grave hour of National Peril, the Dominion Council of The Canadian Legion has met in Ottawa for the express purpose of asking your Government to institute forthwith all necessary measures to place Canada on a "Total War" footing.

2. By "Total War" the Legion means:—
- (a) Immediate, complete and scientific mobilization organization and utilization of all our Resources—Spiritual, Intellectual, Natural, Financial, Agricultural, Industrial, Manpower—in such manner that Canada may be geared to produce essential foods and munitions and to wage war to her maximum capacity;
 - (b) The services of all men and women to be employed to the best and most useful effect, according to the age, training, physical capacity and ability of the individual;
 - (c) By an intelligent extension of the principles contained in the National Resources Mobilization Act and by the elimination of the provisions restricting service to Canada only—our Armed Forces in Canada and overseas, including reserves and reinforcements, to be maintained at the highest possible strength, consistent with our industrial and other requirements;
 - (d) An equitable division of the burden of service, sacrifice, contribution and effort amongst all our people to be the basic principle underlying this "Total War" policy;
 - (e) The cumulative results of this "Total Effort" to be devoted to the single purpose of destroying the enemy.

3. The Legion advances these views supported by its 1,470 Branches and Auxiliaries across Canada, all of whom have spoken with unanimous voice at Provincial conventions held in each Province this summer. It asks in the name of those who have served and of those who are now serving. The Legion is convinced that its request represents the views of the great majority of Canadians.

4. The need is urgent. Our Russian Allies are fighting desperately, but it is folly to ignore the possibility that the full brunt of the War may soon be thrown again upon the British Commonwealth of Nations.

5. The enemy is strong and completely ruthless. He is now acquiring new resources which will make him stronger still.

Our own destruction is next in line on his program of world conquest. Powerful and unscrupulous accomplices are at hand eager to join in the kill.

6. The stark truth stands out with terrible clarity that Axis conquest means for all of us the end of civil and religious liberties, the abolition of Democracy, and in their place the iron heel of Oppression, Persecution and Slavery.

7. In previous Wars there may have existed differences of opinion regarding Canada's participation. In this War there is none. This is a titanic and fundamental struggle between the forces of good and the forces of evil. The destiny of the whole world will be governed by the outcome. We can be under no illusions as to Canada's fate if Hitler prevails.

8. Not only from a sense of loyalty and patriotism to our country, but in very preservation of our own individual lives as well as the preservation of our fellow-beings and the things we love and treasure most—our homes and families, our churches, our institutions—we know that we must now make the supreme and ultimate effort to destroy this menace before it destroys us. That is why we ask for "Total War."

9. In many ways our War Effort is commendable, and it is one in which we can take much pride, but this can afford us no sense of security. It is not "Total War." Canada's War Effort will not be "Total" until all our resources and manpower are organized and concentrated, and directed against the enemy, wherever he may be.

10. The Legion is convinced that the people of Canada will loyally endure whatever hardships and sacrifices may be involved by the introduction and application of measures necessary to this end. No financial appeal, however great, has fallen upon deaf ears. The limited Compulsory Service already introduced, and all other restrictive measures, have been generally accepted. The chief criticism is that they do not go far enough.

11. Surely it is clear that any and all future requirements will be met in the same spirit. To you, Sir, and your Government, the country looks for the lead. The Legion has already pledged its entire support of the War Effort and promises its fullest cooperation in the introduction and application of measures necessary for "Total War."

12. We repudiate, and take as a reflection on our Quebec compatriots, the statement often heard that Canada is unable to wage "Total War" because of the reluctance or unwillingness of that Province. To our certain knowledge there are no greater or more fervent patriots in all Canada than the citizens of that great Province, whose history is so closely entwined with the history of Canada since the earliest days. With the assurance of fair and equitable division of the burden among all Canadians—with favour and privilege to none—the citizens of Quebec, we are convinced, are ready to join in all necessary measures for the annihilation of Nazism. Just as at Vimy in 1917 Canadians from all Provinces in one line advanced to glorious victory, so will they march today.

13. Let us destroy forever this falsehood that Canada cannot wage "Total War" without creating internal disunity. Canada has achieved Nationhood and her people can think and act as one; and when the issues are clear, unmistakable and urgent, they will not hesitate to do so.

14. It is frequently suggested that members of this Government are unable to concur in a "Total War" Effort because of certain political pledges given both before, and at an early stage in the conflict. The sanctity of the pledged word is to be respected. But these promises were entered into when the extent and further course of the War could at best be seen vaguely. Devastating events have since occurred. Canada now stands in deadly peril. Measures for our individual and national self-preservation, as well as for the victory of our Cause must, in The Legion's opinion, take precedence over all else.

The Legion feels it should not be necessary for the Government to labour under a handicap of this nature. It feels that a bold and courageous revision of policy, based upon changing conditions and dire and urgent need, would not only be accepted and understood by those directly affected, but would be acclaimed with enthusiasm throughout the whole nation. The implementation by your Government of a determined and uncompromising policy of "Total War" would, we are certain, evoke warm and widespread approval and would eliminate once and for all that sense of frustration now felt by so many Canadians.

The problem is one which transcends and makes it necessary to rise above all considerations of party and privilege.

15. The uncertainty of the present policy is derogatory to the Canadian War Effort. It should be removed without delay. It also has a deterrent effect upon the minds of the people of the United States, whose continued and increasing support we so sorely need. Surely our War Effort should be so complete as to be immune from criticism.

16. A "Total War" policy will not only add immeasurably to our immediate War Effort—but will also cause our country to grow in stature in the eyes of the world. Encouragement will be given to our men overseas—to the stout-hearted British people—and to our Allies. The wholehearted strength of a United Canada will have been clearly revealed.

17. The Legion reminds you, Sir, that it is an entirely non-partisan body. It represents a great cross-section of men and women throughout the country, of all classes and creeds, who have served and are still endeavouring to serve and have no concern other than the truest and best interest of our country.

18. We again emphasize that the representations herein made have the unanimous support of the Legion Commands in all nine Provinces.

19. The Legion takes this opportunity of expressing its pleasure on your safe return from your recent visit to England and of commending the physical courage you displayed under the circumstances.

20. Canada needs and is seeking a courageous, a moral and a spiritual lead. You yourself, Sir, have forcibly and repeatedly made known your own clear knowledge of the issues at stake and of the terrible dangers which lie ahead. Canada wants you to implement to the full your inspired pronouncement:—"There is only one way to meet 'TOTAL WAR' and that is by 'TOTAL EFFORT'—effort not for a day, or a week, or a month, but every day until victory is won."

21. To the Legion the tradition of Victory is ingrained and instinctive. Any other outcome is unthinkable. But by hard experience we know something of the cost of Victory in blood and effort and suffering and sacrifice. That price must now be paid again, in full. There is no escape from it. We must and can and will prevail, but only if we face facts, and meet "Total War" with "Total War." This the Legion urges and will continue to urge, with all its strength and all its sincerity.

Respectfully submitted,
