At a time when the income tax is being increased by leaps and bounds and when there are all sorts of calls; made upon the people of the province for financing of Red! Cross and war services and other activities such as aid to air raid victims, it is interesting to know that the antitubercules activities have not fallen off. Dr. W. H. Hatfield, chairman of the British Columbia Tuberculosis So-1ciety, reports that the sale of Christmas Seals this last! Christmas was 25 per cent greater than for the previous year. This is a very useful society and one to which every encouragement should be given.

No Thought Of Defeat - - -

"Best antidote for war pessimism, in our experience! at any rate, is to talk to an Englishman. An Englishman just out from England," says the Ottawa Journal.

"We talked to one this week. He was a business man. He had been torpedoed once. He had experienced many bombings. But he spoke of all these things in such a low! matter-of-fact voice that he made us almost ashamed. Wel asked him if he thought England could be defeated by prolonged bombings. His reply, spoken softly, was as though he thought we were being a bit ridiculous but was too polite to say so. In other words, he made us feel we civil were talking nonsense and that he was surprised we should be doing so.

"We came away from this Englishman feeling a lot stouter. Gertainly he convinced us that 40,000,000 people of his kind, so quietly confident without being at all boastful, couldn't be made to quit if the bombs kept raining upon them. The thing just wouldn't occur to them."
