'HUDSON BAY' IS SHOWING

Picture Of Outstanding Canadian Interest Is Presented At Capitol Theatre—Paul Muni Starred

A red blooded drama of exiled adventurers in the New World in the Seventeenth Century, "Hudson's Bay" starring Paul Muni, is

Muni portrays the part of colorful Pierre Radisson, known as "the First Canadian," a roguish fur trapper who was too tough for frontier Montreal following a daring dream that resulted in the founding of a vast empire in a savage wilderness of warring Indians.

Based on the founding of the historic Hudson's Bay Company, the dramatic film has an outstanding featured cast which includes Gene Tierney, Laird Regar, John Sutton, Virginia Field, Vincent Price and Nigel Bruce. Outdoor settings of the picture were chosen to resemble the Hudson Bay district as it was in the period of the action. A great deal of the photography, naturally, is outdoors. Hundreds of Indians are used in the film and an historian of the Hudson's Bay Co. served as technical adviser.

NEWS OF THE MINES

Hazelton Tungsten Property Being Opened Up— Highway to Open Up Great District— Omineca Benefits Vanderhoof

Col. Davis of the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. and crew are now on the Red Rose mine property on Rocher de Boule near Hazelton. This is a tungsten deposit and they are getting it ready for production. First work is on the road leading to the property. This is being carried out with William Sargent in charge and, as soon as it has been completed, a good-sized crew will be put to work on the mine. Last fall Consolidated carried out quite an extensive diamond drilling program on the property to prove the tungsten values. As a result, it has been decided to install a small mill. The Red Rose property is about five miles from Hazelton.

Prospecting for minerals in the vast region that would be opened up by the construction of the British Columbia - Alaska highway, which now appears to be an immediate possibility, would be speeded up by several decades by such a road, it is said. In this great territory, which has not been very extensively examined as yet, it is believed quite likely that deposits will be found to replace great mines now being depleted. The territory is known to have potential mineral resources which, once they become accessible, would most likely prove highly important.

Extensive benefit is being derived by the community of Vanderhoof from the operation of the Pinchi Lake mercury property near Fort St. James by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. As a result of this important operation it is pointed out that thousands of dollars is being spent in that district and received by the people who live in the Vanderhoof area. For instance between June 7 of last year and the end of March this year 30,000 pounds of butter was supplied to the people of the northern mining country from the Vanderhoof creamery and the business is steadily increasing. The Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. itself takes fifty pounds of butter daily from the creamery. Besides eighty per cent of the butter of the creamery, ninety per cent of the eggs of the Vanderhoof and District Egg Pool goes to the northern mining country. Much vegetables, hay and oats also goes north from Vanderhoof farms. In various capacities the Consolidated also employs numerous men from Vanderhoof and district directly and indirectly.

Ten carloads of freight arrived at Vanderhoof last week for the Consolidated operations at Pinchi Lake. This included bricks and mining machinery.

Whifflets From The Waterfront

Survivors of the wreck of the local service boat Bentinck, which was lost off the mouth of Tlell River, Queen Charlotte Islands, on Sunday are expected to reach Prince Rupert tomorrow afternoon from Queen Charlotte City where they have been in hospital recovering from the effects of the harrowing experience which cost the lives of three who were aboard the vessel.

Inaugurating the summer tourist service to Alaska, C. P. R. steamer Princess Louise, Capt. S. K. Gray, is due in port tomorrow morning from Vancouver enroute to Skagway. The vessel is understood to have a large list of passengers including many tourists. On Monday morning the Princess Charlotte, Capt. William Palmer, will be here northbound on her initial voyage of the season.

Man in the Moon

It seems to take a victory loan show to bring the people out. Just now we are turning night into day because of the attractions put on under the guidance of Norton Youngs.

Some people think we are having too much "show" and not enough "give." Norton says the "giving" will follow the "show" and probably he's right.

I know some people who are loosening up just now who have never opened their pocketbooks for a good cause before. Good for them!

I say, give us a good free show every night and we will give the country our dollars. No, not give. I looked over the editor's shoulder and saw him write "The sweet simplicity of three per cents" as one way of winning the war. I like that sentence. I think it was that fine old Jew Disraeli who first used it and a Jew would appreciate it. Let's all be Jews this week and "buy a few."

"I hear you've got rid of the pretty assistant you engaged," a neighbor remarked to the chemist. "Yes," was the reply. "She was turning business away." "But I thought—" "A lot of my men customers kept saying that a smile from her was as good as a tonic."

Harvard has dug up another of those invisible comets. Our own feeling is that when you've seen one invisible comet you've seen them all.

The wisest wisecrack I know is "Gentlemen prefer bonds."

The French people keep happy in spite of much worse tribulations than those from which the British suffer. They have had to suffer the pangs of humiliation.

One story is told of a train being stalled on a French line. The waiter walked through the train saying: "Gentlemen, present your meat tickets. The train has just hit a cow."

Muscular contraction in a snake's tail causes it to wriggle after death. Let's buy a few more bonds and give Hitler muscular contraction.

English child: "Grandpa, tells us again about the time when you used to have indigestion."

And so, ladies and gentlemen, adieu until I go off to another of Norton Young's free shows and think about buying a few more bonds.

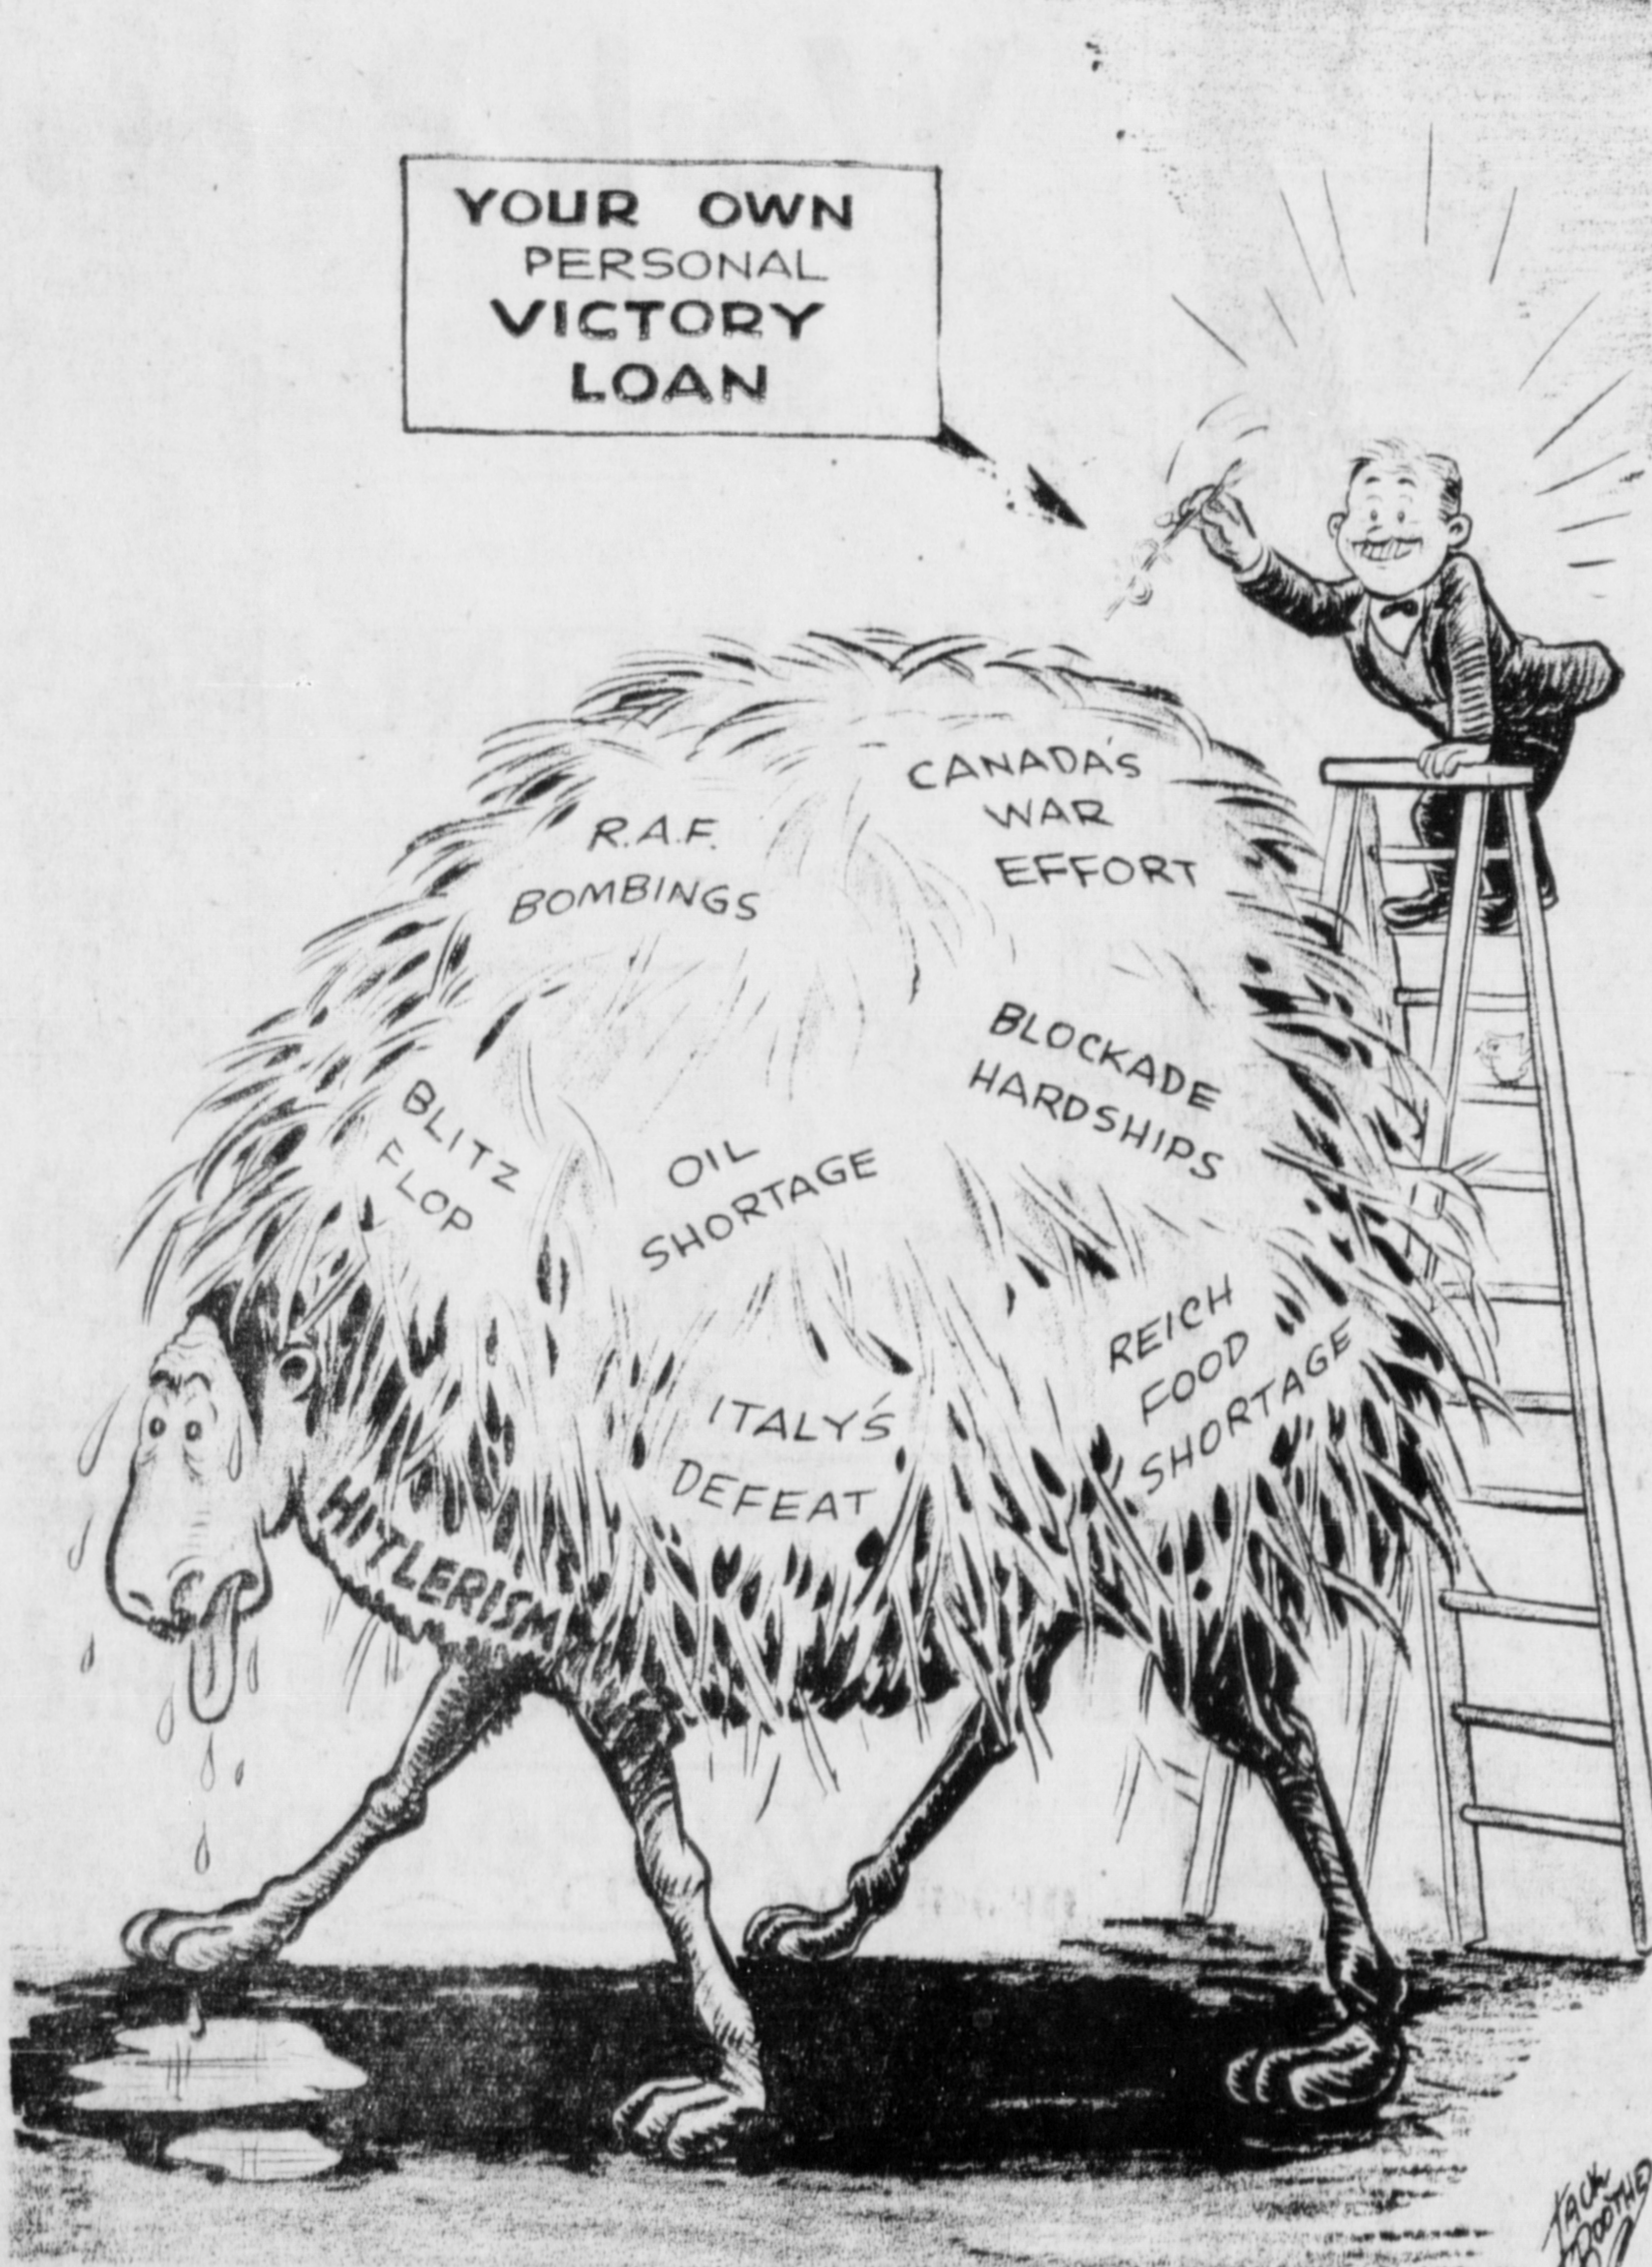

RECALLING DICKENS

CHATHAM, Eng., June 3: (CP)— In "A Child's Dream of a Star," Charles Dickens described the scene of Chatham's parish church and graveyard as he had seen it as a child from his bedroom window. "The Brook" here, now being demolished.

JAP DANGER PASSED!

AUCKLAND, N. Z., June 3: (CP)— Japan is trying to withdraw from the Sino-Jap war with less prestige, said Dr. T. Koo, of the World Student Christian movement, and so China was concerned, the war is over.
