Bags for Survivors

At the urgent request of Britsh naval authorities the Canadian Red Cross Society will supply several thousand dunnage bags for survivors of shipwrecks. Ships picking up survivors are often stripped of every extra garment the crew can muster in order to give a minimum covering to these victims. To meet this urgent need the Red Cross will provide goodsized dunnage bags. Each will contain an overcoat, windbreaker, trousers, sweater, braces, socks, running shoes, cap, mitts, handkerchiefs and scarf. Naval authorities will place these on ships! forming parts of convoys.

Japs Help Red Cross

The Japanese women in the little village of Tofino are good Red! Cross workers. In the last shipment to the provincial Red Cross headquarters, 20 nightgowns made; by them were included. There were also 40 attractive sweaters of sizes for bombed civilians of Britain.
