STORY OF OLD WEST

Gary Cooper at Capitol Theatre for First Half of This Week in "The Westerner"

Against the colorful and adventure-filled background of the Old West in the days when justice was administered at the point of a gun, "The Westerner," an exciting picture with Gary Cooper in the title role, comes as the feature offering to the screen of the Capitol Theatre for the first half of this week. The supporting cast includes such well known favorites as Walter Brennan, Fred Stone, Doris Davenport, Lilian Bond, Forest Tucker and Paul Hurst.

A long and bitter protracted battle between cattlemen, original settlers of the land and homesteaders is reaching a peak when "The Westerner," a roving cowboy, drifts in and soon becomes entangled in local affairs. Fearless and bold, he comes to grips with the lawless element and finds himself in trouble on a trumped-up case. The story reaches spectacular climax when the cattlemen set fire to hundreds of homesteads and farms throughout the area. There is a swift-action filled ending.
