Treaties Not Enough . . .

It is now abundantly evident that regional treaties will only ensure nations to a limited degree. They will not ensure against a new war. More than ever before peace will in the future be indivisible. The possibilities of a lasting peace will mainly be dependent upon the relations between the great powers. It is of vital importance for all the small countries that this relationship should be characterized by co-operation and mutual confidence. Mutual confidence between the great powers is the first condition for international co-operation in the future, for a real League of Nations which must be the ultimate goal of all freedom-loving peoples.

Economical problems are of course not to be solved on the basis of regional autarchy. They can only be solved on a broad international basis. This is especially the case for a country which is dependent to a high degree upon world trade and whose ships sail the Seven Seas. Still less do nations want to be culturally isolated. The ideals for which we are fighting are not bounded by frontiers and the war has created a sense of mutual respect and confidence between all freedom-loving peoples. This wider international co-operation should, however, not be limited to any continent. Not only continents but also oceans are links between nations.

The censor won't let us tell you much about the weather. But, if the chair gets up when you do, you can figure it's hot.

Obscuring a School . . .

There has been some complaint around that end of the city of the erection of Wartime Housing structures which have now all but smothering the Booth Memorial School. It is probably too late to do anything about it now even though protests have been made. However, representations made at this time in regard to what is going on might have some bearing on the choosing of sites for future projects of such kind.

If there are no other sites available for these structures we shall just have to put up with them but, if other land just as suitable could be found, it is reasonable to urge the authorities not to unnecessarily obscure established civilian institutions, particularly such buildings as schools.

A man has been sentenced to three months for smoking in a munitions plant. He is lucky he was able to appear in court in one piece.

GOING TO VANCOUVER

Removal of Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station Is Finally Decided Upon

The Prince Rupert Fisheries Experimental Station is being moved—establishment, staff and all in its entirety—to Vancouver. It is definitely announced. Dr. Neal M. Carter, director, will be leaving between August 15 and 20. Dr. H. N. Brocklesby is already in Vancouver getting established in temporary quarters. Negotiations are now on for premises to be used served at a meal.

during the war. Later it is likely permanent buildings will be built at the University of British Columbia.

TO CONSERVE GAS

LONDON, July 27: (C)—By parking 550 buses at various points in central London during slack periods instead of returning them to outer terminals after the morning rush is over, it is hoped to save 2,000,000 bus trips a year.

DERIVED FROM FRENCH

"Mess" is actually the English mispronunciation of the French "mets," meaning "all the food now on for premises to be used served at a meal."

BASEBALL ON SUNDAY

Dry Dock and Midlands Winners Yesterday

The Dry Dock set a new scoring record in the Senior Baseball League yesterday by slamming the lowly Midlands around by the tune of 14 to 1. The Midlands played one of the woolliest baseball games ever seen on the Acropolis Hill. Cauters started on the mound for the Meds but ran into a heavy hitting barrage and, when the smoke had cleared, the score board read 7 to 0. Randall relieved Cauters in the second and weathered the storm until the sixth inning when his support in the field folded up like a pack of well used playing cards. The game was called in the sixth after one and three quarter hours of sloppy baseball.

The Midland-Watts and Nickerson game was a good one with the Midlands on the long end of an 8 to 1 score. MacKenzie, the Midlands hurler, who is a former Kamloops pitcher, had the Watts and Nickerson nine eating out of his hand no less than thirteen. Clothers going to the bench via the strikeout route. Midlands started off with a bang, scoring two runs in the first inning on hits by Barkwell, MacKenzie and Munroe. The Watts and Nickerson nine scored their lone run in the sixth on hits by Postuk and Santerbane with Postuk scoring the run. Joe Berusch, former Kamloops catcher, played short stop for the Watts and Nickerson team.

BUTTER is four Pats a Week in Britain

HITLER chose "Guns instead of butter." So the Nazis have guns! We must catch up . . . and beat them.

They tortured people to make them save. We must save willingly.

So it's up to us, each one of us, to economize of our own free will . . . buy War Savings Stamps and Certificates so that we can outstrip our enemies with planes and tanks and guns and ships . . . we must do more than merely meet the small requirements for compulsory saving. We must supply nearly half the money needed for the war—voluntarily.

Women must help by economizing in the kitchen, by patching and darning, by shopping carefully and cutting out waste. Make up your mind now to buy one, two, five or more War Savings Stamps every week. You can. You must!
