NORTH AFRICAN WAR

LONDON—British and American soldiers fought together today to oust German troops from Bizerte and clear all of French Tunisia of Axis elements hastily assembled in an effort to impose the final close of the Allied vise upon Libya. Establishment of contact between the Germans and advanced detachments of Lieut. General Kenneth Anderson's predominantly British legion was announced last night by the Allied controlled Morocco radio. In Libya the broken Nazi army is still in flight westward along the coastal road between Bengasi and El Agheila.

GENOA IS BOMBED AGAIN

LONDON—Home-based Royal Air Force bombers attacked Genoa last night making the second attack in three nights on the north Italian naval base. DESERT DUST SPELLS DEATH FOR AXIS

A formation of Boston bombers, escorted by fighters and together occupying an area of 16 square miles in the sky, RIGHT, are pictured during the take-off, raking the desert into plumes of sand. On the LEFT is the result. The smoke rises in a vital Rommel defence area on the Western Desert. Enemy stores and munitions were destroyed by repeated plane attacks to soften up his position for the thrust which is now underway. Black dots are tanks and machinery missed by the salvo.

C.B.C. IS STARTING IN RUPERT

Will Commence Operating Station CFPR as from December 1

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation will start operating the local radio station CFPR as from December 1, it was announced this afternoon by Ira Dilworth, British Columbia regional representative.

CBC engineers will arrive to make the necessary arrangements next Sunday.

Mr. Dilworth had a long conference this morning with Olof Hanson M. P., who expressed his satisfaction with the new arrangement.

WOMEN FOR CONVENTION

Conservatives Plan Programs In Which Women Interested

By JAMES MCCOOK

Canadian Press Staff Writer OTTAWA, Nov. 16 (CP)—Women supporters of the Conservative party will attend the national Conservative convention at Winnipeg December 9, 10 and 11 as part of the general membership. They may leave it with a women's national organization to lead and direct their party work from coast to coast.

Women Conservatives in the capital said their information indicated there will be strong support for a women's organization to knit together provincial associations and advance party programs in which women are particularly interested.

At the 1938 national convention it was voted that "there be no separate national Conservative organization for women but that this shall not be deemed to prevent separate organizations for women in such provinces as may decide to so organize." The convention set forth, also, that "wherever possible women should be accorded equal representation with men on national Conservative organizations.

Some provinces have availed themselves of the right of women to organize their own Conservative associations, but in British Columbia, Alberta, Ontario, Quebec, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island men and women are associated in the same provincial organizations. Where there are local women's associations, they have representation on the general provincial association.

In Saskatoon there is a separate Conservative women's provincial association headed by Mrs. J. H. Currie of Vonda. She recently succeeded Mrs. W. F. Croile of Regina as president. A native of Nova Scotia and a graduate of Mount Allison University, Mrs. Currie went to Saskatchewan as a teacher. She was appointed secretary of a provisional women's committee for the Dominion at the Conservative laymen's conference at Port Hope, Ontario, in September.

SOVIET HAS UPPER HAND

Germans Are Definitely Stalled Now in Wintry Russia

MOSCOW, Nov. 16—The Russians are still holding the upper hand over the Nazi invaders from the Arctic to the Caucasus. The latest assault upon Stalingrad has been halted back, adding several thousand to the toll of Nazi dead. There has been hand to hand bayonet fighting in the wrecked industrial area of the city. The enemy has suffered further reverses in the Caucasus around Nalchik and Tuapse and the drive towards the vital oil fields appeared to have been definitely stalled. Although continuing to bring up fresh reserves, the Germans themselves admit that their Caucasus army is on the defensive.

AXIS KEEPS UP RETREAT WITH SPEED

Allied Forces Moving From Two Directions Towards Tunisia

Vicious Sea—Air Fighting

Corsica is in Revolt Over Landing Of Italian Troops There

CAIRO, Nov. 16—In rushing pursuit of the vanquished Afrika Korps, Allied forces continue to move rapidly towards Tunisia from Algeria on the west and Libya on the east. General Montgomery's Eighth Army has penetrated 150 miles into Libya about half way to Bengasi. The main body of retreating Germans deeper in Libya is past Bengasi towards El Agheila. There has been a violent air raid on Bengasi, numerous fires being started. Another seven Axis ships have been sunk.

Vicious air and naval fighting persisted along the North African coast as Axis forces sought compensation for the November 8 coup that caught them napping. The German High Command claimed, without other confirmation, that eighty-nine Allied transports and warships had been sunk or damaged.

Thirteen Axis submarines have been sunk in the Mediterranean, five within 48 hours.

Admiral Jean Darlan has proclaimed himself as administrator of French North Africa and has appointed General Henri Giraud as commander-in-chief of French forces in the region. In Ajaccio and other Corsican towns a state of siege was declared as a result of active opposition by the French garrison and civilians to Italian landings.
