YOUNG MEN TAKE OVER

Election of Massett Village Council This Year

MASSETT, Feb. 14:-In the personnel of the Massett native council for the year 1942 is seen a tendency to pass the responsibilities of municipal office on to the shoulders of younger men. Godfrey Kelly is chief councillor for the year with Wilfrid Bennett, secretary, and Edward Jones, treasurer. Other members of the council this year are Geoffrey White, David Parnell and John Williams. The village constables for the year are George Price, Albert Edwards and Walter Samuels.

Under the direction of the village council and with the use of voluntary labor, the annual work of improving village roads and grounds has been going on. Each evening after the work there have been entertainments featuring aboriginal dances, songs and depicting other customs of the days of old, all of which proved a source of much interest to the younger generation.
