He is to re-establish the department in the southern city and will then leave the service of the Fisheries Research Board to take an important position with a commercial company. Dr. Brocklesby will be back here for about a week towards the end of August at which time Mrs. Brocklesby and family will move south..

Nathan Harris Smarinsky of London, England, more recently living in the United States, is at present in Prince Rupert and is interesting himself in the organization of dramatics in which both the civilian and military population of Prince Rupert would participate. A meeting is to be held Wednesday night in First United Church for the purpose of organizing. Mr. Smarinsky, who has had considerable experience in connection with moving picture production in England, believes that activity in the field of drama would be of much benefit in Prince Rupert, particularly under present conditions here. A play a month could be staged, he thinks.

Fit Young Women For War Service

LONDON, July 20 (CP)—The first 100,000 recruits now are wearing the navy and white uniform of the National Association of Girls' Training Corps. They are Britain's young women nearing conscription age and their association is the little sister of the uniformed auxiliary services, the W. R. N. S., the A. T. S. and the W. A. A. F.

The movement to form the association got under way only last February and Miss Grace Browning, chairman, and Miss K. Curlett, the organizing secretary, preached the gospel of the movement in tours throughout the country. They stressed the need of giving all girls nearing conscription age some sort of pre-service training.

So far as the girls themselves were concerned they aparently needed no urging to join the movement. It was the parents who had to be convinced. The girls clamored for the same opportunities which are provided their brothers in the various cadet movements.

The Women's Voluntary Service helped the girls obtain their uniforms—the girls have to get them themselves—and classes now are under way in signalling, first aid, and physical exercises designed to fit the girls for quick acclimatization when they are called up for full-time service.

SPORT CHAT

Joe DiMaggio cracked out three hits—one a ninth-inning home run with the bases loaded—to pace New York Yankees to a 5-1 victory over Bob Feller, Cleveland Indians' pitching prodigy five years ago today. Feller allowed seven hits and struck out seven but failed to stop the Yankees' hard-hitting outfielder.

Henry Armstrong, welterweight boxing champion, stopped Lew Jenkins, lightweight titleholder, in the sixth round of a scheduled 12-round non-title bout at New York two years ago last night. Armstrong took a pasting in the first three rounds but weathered the storm to win when Jenkins couldn't come out of his corner for the seventh round.
