CUTS BRAIN, MENDS EYES

Surgeon's Knife Starts Man on Road to Recovery After Two Years of Total Blindness—Eyesight Likely to Be Restored.

Portland, June 6.—Able to distinguish outlines of objects and with the promise of his physician, Dr. Spiro Sargentich, formerly a prominent surgeon of Tacoma, who performed the operation which led to the recovery of sight after two years of total blindness, that his vision may become more and more clear, William Oversby, 25 years old, a railway man of Cle Elum, Wash., will leave the Good Samaritan Hospital Saturday.

When he entered the hospital on May 4, his body was largely paralyzed, and the medical men thought it gave promise of becoming totally useless.

The accident which resulted in Oversby's blindness and in almost complete paralysis occurred two years ago, when he was thrown violently from a Northern Pacific freight train near Cle Elum.

On May 4 Dr. Sargentich removed several cubic inches from Oversby's brain and several square inches of his skull and relieved the pressure.
