COMEDY ROMANCE

"Bedtime Story," With Fredric March and Loretta Young Coming Here

Fredric March and Loretta Young are teamed in Columbia's "Bedtime Story," gay comedy which comes Wednesday and Thursday to the Capitol Theatre. Supporting the stars is a comedy-wise cast which includes Robert Benchley, Allyn Joslyn, Eve Arden, Helen Westley and Joyce Compton.

March appears as a playwright; Miss Young as his actress-wife. They both want to retire from the theatre; at least, March says he does, too. Miss Young's efforts to escape into domesticity are constantly thwarted, however, and she finally embarks for Reno and re-marriage. These legal formalities over with, she discovers her "ex" is carrying his creative tendencies a little too far . . he even writes and stages her honeymoon night, so that a romance ends in a . . .

The stars are said to be at their best in the delightful dilemma which is "Bedtime Story."

IS VASSAL TO NAZIS

United States Assistant Secretary Of State Says Allied Victory Only Can Save Italy

NEW YORK, Oct. 13—A. A. Burley, assistant secretary of state, speaking to Italian-Americans here declared that the Nazis had already reduced Italy to the position of an occupied state. Mussolini and his contemptible associates had turned the country over the Nazis and made of it a puppet state. Patriotic Italians need not, however, be ashamed despite the betrayal. However, only a United Nations victory would preserve Italian homes, country, art, science and soul.

Burley described how Italy was being robbed of food to feed Germans, how her soldiers were being sent to fight Russia while Germans occupied Italy.

Announcement was also made of the destruction of fifteen Japanese planes, damage to two enemy light cruisers and loss of two United States planes in operations October 9 to 11.

Last night the Navy disclosed the loss of the heavy cruisers Quincy, Vincennes and Astoria in a naval battle August 9 during the early phase of Solomon operations. At the same time the Australian cruisen Canberra was lost.

MAKING OF MUNITIONS

Canadian National Puts Important Official in Charge

MONTREAL, Oct. 13 — John Roberts, chief of motive power and car equipment, Canadian National Railways and managing director of National Railways Munitions Limited, will in future devote his entire time to the direction of the big munitions plant operated by the National syetem, it was announced here today by N. B. Walton, vice-president in charge of operation, maintenance and construction. The change takes place immediately.

"Mr. Roberts has been successfully carrying on two very big jobs," Mr. Walton said in making the announcement, "and it is felt that arrangements should be made so that he will be able to devote his entire time and energy to the extremely important work of production of munitions."

Born at Kilmarnock, Scotland, in 1881, Mr. Roberts entered the service of the Canadian National as machinist in the motive power shops at Stratford in 1903. He became charge hand there in 1907 and was made foreman of the machine shop in 1917, becoming general foreman in 1920. In 1921 Mr. Roberts was appointed acting superintendent and later in the same year was confirmed in his appointment as superintendent of the Stratford shops where he continued until his appointment as general supervisor of shop methods for the system in 1925 at which time he moved to Montreal. In April, 1933, he became chief of motive power and car equipment. During his service as chief of motive power, Mr. Roberts devoted himself to the problem of increasing the efficiency of the system locomotives and each new class has shown an improvement over the preceding one. The latest 6200 class, the series of which recently came into the service, has numerous improvements including new methods of steam delivery which has proven successful in reducing coal consumption and effecting economy in operation. Present day Canadian National locomotives haul heavier loads at greater speed with less coal consumption than those of a generation ago.

DANGEROUS SITUATION

Editor, Daily News:

We wish to highly commend your editorial of October 8 stressing the "Dangerous Situation" which exists in the Prince Rupert of today. In so doing, we know that we voice the sentiment of all respectable-thinking, loyal and win-the-war minded people.

Anyone with eyes and ears which function normally can see and hear for himself, day and night, scenes of drunkenness and disorder which prevail among both civilians and servicemen. Civilians do not deny that drunkenness and misbehaviour are very high among their ranks but they know that the percentage of such conduct is also high among servicemen. Newcomers to our city who base authoritative judgment on the absurdity of an investigation on one "pay night" in the remarkable disguise of "service raincoats," and on a check of cases in the civilian city police court and gauge "the conduct of servicemen by their ability to salute properly" should carry out an intelligent and thorough research and "make certain of the true facts" before they speak.

Like the author of the editorial in the Daily News we have resided in this city for some years and know that in pre-war days in practically every section of the city one could leave his doors unlocked without fear of burglary, girls and women could walk anywhere unmolested and drunkenness and disorder did not permeate the city. Now at the time when Prince Rupert, as a more populous centre on the front line of defense should have every faculty of its motley population perfectly functioning as an efficient unit to win the war, we permit of a decadent influence, which the fifth columnist, the blind and the complacently-minded would excuse as a natural result of war. Financial and business avarice, nonsensical smugness, complacency, "authoritative incompetence" and refusal to face the facts can no longer be tolerated. We will never conquer the powers of evil abroad unless we first conquer those in our midst.

Civilians and servicemen who do not walk hand in hand with this No. 1 Axis Fifth Columnist, you who do not condone this cankerous sapping of our efficient war effort, shall we allow our once fair city to be branded as a Sodom and Gomorrah? Are we going to sit idly, blindly and stupidly by letting ourselves be swallowed in a whirlpool of degradation? Let us fight this Fifth Columnist behind the lines. Let us, with every weapon at our command, fight all these complacent, blind and stupid condoners whether they be civilians or within the ranks of the services. We must kill this thing before it is too late. It is a problem for all loyal citizens to face together, to solve by co-operation and stern, just discipline, beginning at the root of the trouble—the curtailment of our most active and pernicious Fifth Columnist—Liquor.

The courageous Daily News faces the dangerous situation, which confronts us here and now in Prince Rupert, without fear or prejudice. To commend this stand is not enough. It must be backed by decisive action. Let your voices be heard now in righteous protest! Save your home, your city and your country!

DR. AND MRS. J. T. MANDY.
