Successful And Interesting Tea

Affair By Rebekahs At Home Of Mrs. Thomas Priest

A successful and interesting tea was held at the home of Mrs. Tom Priest, Graham Avenue, on Tuesday afternoon by the Centennial Rebekah Lodge in the interest of the British Columbia Rebekah-Oddfellows War Fund.

The hostess was assisted in receiving the many callers by Mrs. Frank Morrison, while those in charge of the afternoon tea were Mrs. Robert Moore, Mrs. D. V. Smith and Mrs. J. S. Irvine. Mrs. W. S. Hammond was cashier.

Daffodils and pot ferns were used effectively throughout the rooms.

An added attraction to the afternoon tea was Mrs. Priest's fine collection of shell novelties on display. The skill and beauty of the varied creations showed a true artistic talent and was worthy of some note. There were also a few smaller novelties on sale, which were readily bought by the guests, adding materially to the financial result of the afternoon.
