FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

(5th Avenue and Young Street)

Morning Service, 11:00 a.m.—"My Peace I Give."
Sunday School, 12:15.
Evening Service, 7:30 p.m.—On "The Road to Calvary."
Jesus said, "Follow Me."
Singing Service and Social Hour following the Evening Service. Welcome!
"The wage of sin is death, but the Gift of God is Eternal Life."
Offering for the day will be donated to the Missionary Budget.
REV. C. A. WRIGHT—Pastor.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH

5th and McBride
Magnus B. Anderson—Pastor

10:00 a.m.—"THE 12TH HOUR." It was midnight, and five foolish virgins discovered too late that to enter into Heaven they must have the Holy Spirit. Christ warns in this parable that even a last desperate attempt to make ready for His coming failed.
12:30 p.m.—"A CRY FOR PURITY." David had fallen into gross sin, but he acknowledged it before God. It is bad enough to fall into sin, but unconfessed sin is not forgiven.
"Create in me a clean heart, O God."
FREE lunch and fellowship hour will follow the evening song and preaching service. We cordially invite the men in the service to join with members, friends and visitors.

Twenty-Five Years Ago

This morning, the name of Alfred Skork, merchant, was submitted to the returning officer as that of a candidate for election to Dominion Parliament.

A float on which some employees of the dry dock were working was hit by a sudden squall which blew them out into the harbor at six o'clock last evening. Many launches put out to help the men but they could not be found in the dark. This morning they were sighted across the bay, none the worse for their night's exposure.

C. C. Perry, Indian Agent, returned from Port Simpson.

The Experts Say . . .

By ISABEL ALLAN
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)
Hints for wartime living from folk who ought to know

OTTAWA, Nov. 21 (AP)—Wartime hints for housewives on duty on the home front:

SANDWICHES—Most families nowadays have some member who requires a lunch box. Laura Pepper, chief of the consumer section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, suggests this recipe for a meat spread that is nutritious as well as delicious. Put scraps of any left-over cooked meat through the chopper to make 2 1/2 cups ground meat. Add two tablespoons of grated onion and one teaspoon chili powder. Season with salt, a pinch of cayenne and one teaspoon chili powder. Cook, stirring constantly until mixture is thoroughly blended and reaches boiling point—cool and store in a covered jar in the refrigerator.

VITAMIN C—If you can't afford to buy oranges and grapefruit now, Dr. L. B. Pett, director of Nutrition Services, has several tips on substitutes to suggest. He says that by using three other foods generously we can get enough vitamin C without using citrus fruits, which are our richest single source of Vitamin C—try tomatoes or tomato juice, potatoes properly cooked, preferably in their skins; and cabbage, which is best served raw.

SOUP—An ideal luncheon dish is a bowl of steaming hot pea soup which Marian Harlow of nutrition services says will provide much of the iron and other food values found in meat.

APPLIANCES—The experts have a few hints on keeping those grills, toasters, waffle and laundry irons in tip-top condition. Keep appliances clean and in repair—don't let them get wet—remove crumbs, excess grease and finger prints when the appliance is cool handle cord carefully—don't attach too many appliances to any one outlet—occasionally rub paraffin wax over the sole plate of the iron and polish—scrub the grids of the waffle iron with a fine-wire brush, then brush with a non-salted oil, heat about 10 minutes and soak up any excess oil with a piece of bread—this eliminates fats when making waffles.

CHRISTMAS—Is just around the corner and your guiding principle, in the year's Christmas giving should be "Buy only what they need, if they don't need it, don't give it," says Byrne Hope Sanders. "Mrs. Consumer" of the Prices Board. "This year we should keep Christmas a family affair." She asks us to aid Canada's war effort instead and rid the world of those who would "block out" Christmas.

WOOLLIES—It will soon be time for those winter woollies. H. G. Smith, administrator of knitted goods, has limited the choice of colors, that knitted "outerwear" can be made in, so you will need to take extra care of the ones you have. Keep wool garments on hangers, protect them against dust and keep away from heat—excessively dry air is injurious to them—after you wash woollens dry them in moderate temperatures and place them on hangers or lay them flat to shape—steaming the fabric through a damp cloth, with a light iron pressure, will minimize "shine."
