COMEDY OF MATRIMONY

"Skylark," With Colbert, Milland
And Aherne, Coming To Capitol
At First of Week

A gay comedy of the matrimonial errors of a modern young couple and a handsome, footloose bachelor, "Skylark," starring Claudette Colbert, Ray Milland and Brian Aherne, will be the feature picture on the screen of the Capitol Theatre next Monday and Tuesday.

Miss Colbert portrays a modern young wife who divorces her advertising-man husband when he places his business career ahead of their love. She, however, is too deeply in love with him to make it a permanent arrangement. Dashing Brian Aherne, a bachelor with a boat, a captivating line and a moon, takes Claudette into a skylark which finally lands her aboard the amorous young man's storm-tossed sloop. Claudette takes a land-lubber's beating from the sea and there are any number of other delightful comedy situations all of which lead up to a happy and satisfactory ending.

Binnie Barnes, Walter Abel, Mona Barrie, Ernest Cossart and Grant Mitchell are other important members of the cast.

No Protection for Logging Camps From Enemy Action — Massett Fishermen's Body Active — Clam Canning Important Industry.

It has been suggested that logging camps on the Queen Charlotte Islands and elsewhere along the British Columbia coast are not sufficiently protected against the possibility of enemy action, indeed they have no protection at all. "The loggers feel that some attempt should be made by the Dominion government to organize civilian duties of engineer on the Indian Department cruiser Naskeena in succession to Tom Moorehouse who has joined the provincial police as engineer on the P. M. L. 15.

The Massett United Fishermen's organization, membership of which is comprised of salmon trollers of Massett, continues functioning with W. Matthews as president and Elijah Jones as business agent or manager. Representatives of the organization have been in Prince Rupert recently negotiating with fishing companies in preparation for the forthcoming season's fishing operations.

An interesting announcement this week was that to the effect that razor clam beaches on Massett Inlet had been made available to the natives by the Nootka Packing Co. for the digging of clams by the Clam Canning Co-operative Association of Massett, the clams to be canned in Sam Simpson's cannery at Old Massett. The Co-operative association was organized during the past winter. Indian Agent James Gillett and Sam Simpson visited Vancouver recently to negotiate in connection with this enterprise.

Herring Run Disappears

The big run of herring which has been on at Khutzmateen Inlet, just south of the Naas River, which has been on for the past couple of weeks or so, disappeared completely at the first of the week, the fish simply moving out. Since then the only catches reported in the district have been small ones around Namu. Since Tuesday only 100 tons of fish has been received at Nelson Bros. Fisheries Ltd. cannery here.
