Keeping of Nurses Proving Problem-Conference With Director of Public Health Unit

The Prince Rupert General Hts pital is very busy these days and he maintaining of the nursing staff at strength owing to and shortage of nurses is proving a problem which took up a good deal of the time at a meeting of he board of directors on Tuesday night—the first meeting to be held since the annual general meeting of the Association some time ago.

The board was also in conference with Dr. D. J. MacDonald, director of the new public health unit here, a number of matters of common interest being discussed including the question of handling infectious cases and the isolation hespital situation.

The board received the usual monthly reports of committees.

Frank Dibb was re-elected chairman of the board with G. P. Tinkas as vice-chairman and Harry Birch, secretary-treasurer.

Those in attendance at the meeting were Frank Dibb, D. G. Borland, Arnold Flaten, G. P. Tinker, R. E. Benson, W. O. Fulton, Dr. R. G. Large and Mrs. S. A. Kielback, directors; Miss Mary Fraser R. N., lady superintendent, and H. W. Birch, managing sec-

Older Girl Guides Are Being Used

Will Be Ready For Specialized Service When Called Upon

TORONTO, May 21: (9-In addition to the regular Girl Guide preparedness training, a new plan of emergency service training has just been launched for Girl Guides over 15 years of age.

This new Wartime Emergency service plan will enable older girls to be ready when called upon ned in the form of tests which include intensive training in physical fitness discipline and dependability, and such specialized subjects as child care, home nursing, emergency cooking, transport, messenger service and land work. Each girl as she qualifies in the general test will receive an armlet' to which stripes will be added as
