REMOVE A BAD IMPRESSION.

Visitors to Prince Rupert are usually very favorably impressed with the city. Very rightly they admire the result in street and building development, of the indomitable character of the people who have pioneered Prince Rupert. But a different impression was made by our city upon two visitors who, arriving by the Prince George, made a thorough investigation of Prince Rupert's conditions from a fire protection and prevention point of view. While they give Prince Rupert credit for an up to date enough and most efficient fire brigade, they pass lightly over that as a remedy only too necessary in view of the conditions they have found in the city which they declare simply invite a conflagration that will sweep out the best part of our business section.

Closely crowded frame buildings of dry lumber, several of which they say ought to be condemned and removed, back yards piled high with waste paper, excelsior wood fibre packing (almost the most inflammable material known), and gasoline in tanks and led through tubes, they discovered wherever they searched. Even the Mayor's business premises on Third avenue they declared amongst the most offending, and apart from the aspect of fire risk, they mentioned the aspect of sanitation as vitally important. These visitors, experienced in sizing up similar and comparative conditions in Canadian cities were far more forcible on the subject than this article. They have gained an exceedingly bad impression of our city, which it is up to Prince Rupert to remove. If the Mayor sets a bad example need the citizens necessarily follow it?

May fire losses in Canada amounted to $2,251,815, according to estimate of the Monetary Times. For the first nine months of the year the total is over $10,500,000—an increase of about $3,400,000 over the corresponding period of 1911. A fire waste of $25,000,000 or over looms in sight for 1912 as a whole, says Canadian Finance.

Is Prince Rupert to run the frightful risk of contributing to the grand total of the cost of Canada's carelessness when just a little concentrated tidiness would so greatly reduce the danger?

SHORTCOMINGS OF CONVENTIONS.

The present Republican convention is doubtless the last which the party bosses will rule under present day methods. The party boss has been in control of conventions for many years. The people have revolted from his domination and have insisted upon state primaries in some places.

It is interesting to note that the battle at Chicago was mainly between delegates chosen by the bosses at party conventions and the delegates chosen at the primaries. The party bosses are in control now, but the will of the people must prevail eventually. In the next Republican convention without doubt the delegates nominated by primaries will be in the big majority.

The convention method is undemocratic. An unscrupulous United States president by the convention method could so fortify himself in office as to make himself practically impregnable and could keep on getting conventions forever. Taft is not popular in the United States. If there had been nation wide primaries he would have no chance of election. Had there been no primaries at all he would have been chosen without difficulty. He is not a scientific manipulator or a politician. If he can fortify himself in office against the wishes of the people the power of the unscrupulous office holder seeking re-election would be almost without limit.

The convention system of selecting candidates across the line has fallen down everywhere. It gives the greatest opportunities to the manipulator, the boss and the wire puller. Conditions in this country are somewhat different and the evils of the system that are so apparent across the line are not so apparent in Canada. However, the opportunity is here and it will be a matter of time only before the evils will be reproduced.—Calgary Albertan.

REAL ESTATE AT EXTREMES

Banks Curtailing Accommodation to Known Cases of Deep Plunging in Subdivisions—Central Property Always Good.

There is no question that real estate speculation has gone to extremes in some parts. It is understood that in some cases the banks are curtailing accommodation to commercial customers who are believed to have been carried away by the movement. Central property in the cities will no doubt hold its value, but operations in outside subdivisions are reckoned to have reached extravagant proportions.—Canadian Finance.

VANCOUVER'S NEW STATION

C. P. R. Depot, to Cost $1,400,000, Will Be Erected by Well Known Firm—Work Now in Hand—Several Millions in Features.

The new C. P. R. station at Vancouver is to be built by Waterhouse, Church & Kerr, New York. It will cost $1,400,000. The official announcement regarding the award was made recently. Work is commencing immediately. The building, when completed, will rank with the best stations on the continent. In accordance with the agreement arrived at with the city, the company will also build a tunnel in the downtown section to relieve the congestion of traffic. Railway crossings will be abolished and overhead bridges built, the work involving a total of several million dollars.

STEAM TRAWLER ON A LONG TRIP

Orontes Left Clyde One Hundred and Seven Days Ago, and is Now Due at Victoria—Will Fish on This Coast.

The steam trawler Orontes, purchased in the United Kingdom for the Wallace Fisheries, to join the fleet which makes its headquarters at Barclay Sound, is expected to reach Victoria shortly from the Clyde. The Orontes called at San Diego a week ago and should by this time be nearing the end of her long voyage.

She left the Clyde 107 days ago in company of Captain Kerr and has made many calls at coaling stations en route via the Straits of Magellan. The Orontes is considered a fine steam trawler.

She is an iron-screw ketch-rigged vessel of 176 tons gross, 76 tons net register, classed 100 A-1 at Lloyds. She was built by Cochrane & Cooper at Beverly in 1895 and has been used as one of the Yorkshire coast fishing fleet in the North Sea. Her dimensions are: Length 111.5 feet; beam 21 feet; and depth 11.5 ft. The vessel is engine with triple expansion machinery with three cylinders, 13 inches, 21 inches and 34 inches in diameter, with 24 inch stroke.

Making a Flat World Round

When Columbus set out to reach India by sailing westward, he met with opposition and ridicule. He believed the earth to be round.

Wise men held that it was flat—that Columbus was mad—and that he'd fall off somewhere if he departed from established beliefs.

But Columbus' belief found him a continent and made him blessed of memory.

The Business World is flat to some men Their profit-bearing shores of Opportunity stretch only so far as their grandfathers trod. Custom, superstition and apathy have set them confines which they may not pass.

For instance, they believe the business year is a flat one—not an all-year round of trade, with East joining West, with Spring merging into Autumn—but just two distinct seasons, with sawed-off edges gaping into space.

They confine their activities to a Spring trade and to a Fall trade. To them there is no intervening continent with stores of waiting wealth. Their world is flat. They have not explored the mid-year months of Summer trade. June, July and August are never-never land.

Surely this conception of Summer as a "dull" season is as fallacious as the delusion that the earth was flat. People have just as much money in the hot weather and spend quite as freely as in Spring and Fall. Granted that they are not buying skates and snow shovels in August, yet they are buying staple articles. Furthermore, they have an eye on luxuries and comforts they are counting upon purchasing in the Fall.

The modern Columbus has discovered this Summer trade—this golden West lying between the known continents of old beliefs. Departing from established habit, many have made their energies and their Advertising an all-year-round proposition.

Keeping up Advertising during the Summer months not only links your Spring and Fall, but produces rich harvests from the Summer months themselves.

Advice regarding your advertising problems is available through any recognized Canadian advertising agency, or the Secretary of the Canadian Press Association, Room 503 Lumsden Building, Toronto. Enquiry involves no obligation on your part—so write, if interested.
