NEWS FROM EDMONTON

Capt. E. R. Brock, R.C.N.V.R., director of naval reserve divisions, carried out an inspection of Edmonton division. He was accompanied by Commander E. T. Tisdall, director of training for the Canadian Navy; Lieut. Colin S. Glassco, officer commanding the Edmonton division, and officers in charge of each division. Capt. Brock examined candidates for commissions in the navy.

As a result of the destruction last New Year's day of Metropolitan United Church building here, the amalgamation of Metropolitan and Garneau United churches is being considered. The proposal is to erect a new church building to take care of the requirements of the merged congregation. Some of the material from old Metropolitan Church may be salvageable.

Purchase of $1500 of Dominion government bonds was decided upon at the final meeting of the Students' Council of the University of Alberta here. Lloyd Grisdale of Olds, Alberta, is the new president of the students' council.

Surgeon Captain A. McCallum, medical director-general of the Royal Canadian Navy, in an interview during a recent visit here, made the statement that 46 percent of the men called up for military training were below Category A.

After two years and three months on military service in England, Sergeant Instructor Donald Gower, in civilian life ticket clerk for the Canadian Pacific Railway at Edmonton station, has returned home and will be engaged in instructional work here.

Sunrise Easter Sunday services were held by many of Edmonton's churches including Grace Lutheran, Central Baptist and Edmonton Pentecostal Tabernacle.

Numerous new and timely volumes have been added to the shelves of the Edmonton Public Library.

Prospects for a resumption of activity in the Wainwright oil field of Alberta are believed to be good. Drilling is about to begin on holdings of Clifton C. Ross, one mile north of town. The Wainwright field has been dormant for ten years. Experts believe there are several potential small wells.

Spring has arrived in Edmonton and local gardeners are getting their plots in readiness. Vegetables, rather than flowers, will be featured by many Edmonton gardeners this year.

Helen Northup, Noel MacDonald and Etta Dann, old time stars of the Commercial Grads, have been sparking the Grad-Comets of Edmonton in the series here during the past week with Wichita Thurstons which the Edmonton girls won.

The Western Canada table tennis championship tournament has been in progress here during the week with many of the leading players of the western part of the country participating.

The Edmonton Piano Class Teachers' Association has elected officers as follows: President, O. Hatlen; vice - president, Miss Blanche Thornton.

Easter holiday travel on railway and bus lines in all directions from Edmonton was much heavier than usual.

Prize horses and cattle of many classes from all over the western provinces were shown at the annual spring stock show of the Edmonton Exhibition Association last week. The show lasted four days and included two sales.

Mrs. Allan Sasche, president of the Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Army, speaking here a few days ago, urged members of the Auxiliary to vote affirmatively in the forthcoming federal manpower plebiscite.

CONCERT IS ACCEPTABLE

Final Affair Staged by Varden Singers — Col. Adams and Commander Reed Make Speeches

Before a good-sized and appreciative audience, the Varden Singers Thursday night in St. Paul's Lutheran Church presented a very acceptable concert featuring sacred numbers, both in Norwegian and English. The proceeds from a collection amounting to $112 will be for the benefit of Norwegian sailors in the service of the Allies.

There were anthems and part songs and Mrs. Henry Lindseth was soloist. Peter Lien exhibited his usual capabilities in direction.

In addition to the choral numbers, there were organ solos by Peter Lien and piano solos by Miss Frances Moore.

Miss Ruth Nelson acted as accompanist for some of the numbers.

Another feature of the evening included addresses by Col. Fred W. Adams of the United States Army and Commander A. H. Reed of the Canadian Navy. The former spoke on the Norwegian merchant marine and the latter on the subject of "Loyalty."

Rev. J. H. Myrwang presided and spoke of the occasion of the second anniversary of the Nazi invasion of Norway as well as the part being played in the war by Norwegian seamen.

A FAMOUS PLAYERS PRODUCTION

CAPITOL

Whifflets From The Waterfront

C.P.R. steamer Princess Louise will shortly be coming on the company's Alaska service for the summer replacing the Princess Norah. The Louise will operate on a ten-day schedulee with Captain Thomas Cliff in command. Capt. S. K. Gray, who for some years, has been master of the princess Louise, is now skipper of the princess Elizabeth on the Vancouver-Victoria run.

C.P.R. steamer Princess Norah, Capt. William Palmer, arrived in port at 11:15 yesterday morning from Vancouver and, after discharging fifty tons of freight here, sailed at 4 p.m. in continuation of her voyage to Alaska whence she is due back here Thursday afternoon southbound. The ss. Norah had on board 156 passengers of whom three disembarked here, six going aboard at this port for the north.

Her earliest arrival in port from the south in weeks, Union Steamer Catala, Capt. Ernest Sheppard, arrived at 10:10 last night from Vancouver and sailed at midnight for Port Simpson and Stewart whence she is due back here tomorrow morning southbound.
